Historic Hotel Is Burned, Eddyville; Cause Unknown

Fire as it engulfed third story.

Schumann Hostelry of D & H Canal Days Is Destroyed—Three Companies Are Called to Fight Blaze, Work All Night

Fire roared through the old Schumann Hotel in Eddyville last midnight, collapsing the roof and rear wall before the blaze was brought under control early this morning by firemen from three nearby communities.

The famed hostelry of Delaware and Hudson Canal days had been unoccupied for a number of years, but had just been repainted and was being fitted out for a new owner.

Cause of the fire and the amount of loss have not been determined.

No personal injuries or loss of life was reported.

The building, a landmark along Route 213 in Eddyville, was a three-story frame structure with large balconies around the first and second floors, a large third floor and an attic with dormer windows.

Discovered at 11:26

The fire was discovered by neighbors, who telephoned the alarm to Mutual Aid Headquarters in Kingston's Central fire station at 11:26 p. m. Wednesday.

Bloomington Fire Department was dispatched and responded with its three pumpers under Chief Joheph Yunker and Assistant Chief C. F. Doty.

Doty reported that the entire back end of the structure was in flames when firemen arrived. A call for assistance brought Engine 2 from the Cornell station in Kingston, under Deputy Chief James M. Brett, and the St. Remy Fire Department under its chief.

With the fire eating its way into the upper stories of the building, Doty a little later requested ladders tall enough to reach the roof, and the Aerial Truck No. 1 from Central station in the city was dispatched.

Canal Slip Used

"Tons and tons" of water were pumped to the fire from the old canal bed about 500 feet distant, Doty reported, but by 2 a. m. today the flames had weakened the structure sufficiently to cause the north wall to fall onto a garage next to the hotel. Water was immediately turned on the garage, and it along with other threatened nearby buildings was saved.

Firemen continued their efforts all night long, and it was 7 a. m. today before the Bloomington fire officials declared the fire out and equipment returned to quarters.

Only the front of the building and the wall facing St. Remy remained standing.

The building was owned by Edward Seymour of Wrentham street, Kingston, firemen reported.

Although it had been unoccupied for several years, the building had recently been repainted outside, and its interior was being redecorated. A quantity of furniture, including a piano and some upholstered pieces, was lost.

Assistant Chief Doty said the County Fair Due To Close 5 P.M.

Despite overcast skies crowds continued to pour into Forsyth Park early this afternoon to attend the 1952 Ulster County Fair.

Fair Secretary Albert Kurdt said that movie star Bendix was scheduled to appear at the fair about 2 p. m. or shortly after and would award trophies. The fair will officially close at 5 p. m.

Horse Show Today

The tractor driving contest was under way this morning with a number of contestants entered. Maneuvering, with equipment attached, was unusually tricky and difficult. The horse show, which always attracts great interest, was scheduled to begin at 1 p. m. with 40 owners entering horses in the competition.

Kurdt said today that the fair was "packed and jammed" last night but that no cases of vandalism or mishap were reported. He paid special tribute to the "fine job" the police were doing and expressed appreciation to all individuals and organizations who had volunteered their services to make the fair a success.

Wins Fruit Section

Milton Grange 884 won first place in the Class A fruit section competition, with Highland Grange second and Ulster Grange 969 third.

In Class B, general farming, Lake Katrine Grange 1065 took first prize with Patroon Grange 1519 of Accord second and Hurley Grange 963 third. Others exhibiting in this class were Asbury and Rosendale Granges.

The Junior, Senior and Grand Champion Female, Holstein, in the cattle show, was awarded to Harry J. Beatty of Kingston and the Grand Champion Bull, Holstein, went to the Rondout Cooperative Bull Association, Inc., of Accord.

Frank Van Deusen of Tillson won two awards in the poultry show, Best Pullet and Best Cockerel. Best Hen award went to F. H. DeHoff of 15 Snyder avenue, Kingston, and Best Cock to Franklin Kelder of Accord.

Malenkov Is Seen Choice Of Joe Stalin

Action Might Forestall Bloody Upset After Stalin Dies

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—A solid clue pointing to Russia's next ruler may emerge from the full dress meeting of the Communist Party Congress in Moscow Oct. 5.

And American diplomats will not be surprised if tough, 50-year-old Georgi Malenkov steps up as Josef Stalin's personal choice as next Russian prime minister.

In fact, some suspect Stalin's aim in staging the whole affair may be to give a formal, open hint as to who the next boss should be.

This may be Stalin's way, they believe, of lessening the possibility of a bloody struggle for power within the Communist high command after he dies.

Theory Is Given

Until they have more time to analyze Moscow's announcement of the calling of the first Communist Congress since 1939, American diplomats say their view is a theory rather than a considered opinion. But here is what they think:

Stalin's heir apparent will be the man who is chosen to be chairman of the new Praesidium, to be organized at the meeting to replace the Politburo.

The 12-man Politburo, now the top governing body, has no chairman or chief executive. But a Praesidium under the Russian setup generally does have one.

Would Be Proclaimed

Anyone picked for this job would automatically be praclaimed publically as the most important Communist in Russia next to Stalin.

It is entirely possible that Stalin himself will be designated chairman of the new Praesidium. But, if so, why for the first time since 1925 is he not to give the main address to the Congress, the report of the central committee?

This is a sort of state of the union speech summing up Communist stewardship of the Soviet Union since the last congress met. in this case it will cover a 13-year period and will be especially important.

Malenkov, a Communist party wheel who worked his way up from the ranks like Stalin, is now scheduled to give this report, the most important thing on the agenda.

No Important Role

Furthermore, neither Parshal Beria, head of the Soviet Secret Policy and Deputy Premier Malenkov's main rival, nor Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov, is scheduled at this time to play any prominent role in the congress party session. This may be a clue that Molotov is being pushed into the background, since he read the new five-year plan at each of the two previous congress meetings, in 1934 and 1939.

Molotov is 62 and his age has been considered a factor against him in speculation on Stalin's successor.

American officials know little about Malenkov except that several years ago he launched a determined campaign to make sure the floors of all Soviet factories were kept clean.

Key Cominform Figure

He also was a key figure in setting up the Cominform, the guiding Soviet Policy Bureau for Russia's eastern Europe satellites. At present, he is a member of the

Viaduct Is Scheduled On Route 28

Project Planned in Line With Thruway in City Region and Will Be Two-Way Span

To Delay Bids

Advertising for Section Near Sawkill Is Put Off for Month

Construction of the New York State Thruway in the Kingston area will entail the building of a viaduct over Route 28 similar to that at Saugerties where the super highway crosses Route 212, A. R. Erskine, Thruway Authority engineer at Poughkeepsie said today.

Erskine also revealed that advertising for bids on the Sawkill-Kingston section of the route will probably be delayed until mid-September because of a late filing of maps for the taking of required lands. It was indicated earlier that the state would advertise for the bids late this month.

The Thruway route will be raised above the present level of Route 28 at the intersecting point, the engineer said, as a safeguard against possible floods in the area, and a two-span viaduct over 28 will be built as part of the traffic interchange system.

Will Relocate Road

The viaduct will be built within the first half mile of the mountain route west of the city. Then the super highway will span the Esopus creek, the Catskill Mountain branch of the New York Central Railroad and the O and W Railroad.

The road also will go over Route 209 in the vicinity of Hurley avenue extension. Plans for the crossing of Lucas avenue extension at this time appear indefinite and Erskine said it may be necessary to relocate part of that road.

The two railroads will be over-

Eisenhower Says Nation Must Veer Back From Leftist Ways

Republican Presidential Nominee Addresses 20,000 Persons at Boise—Meets GOP Leaders From 7 States at Kansas City

Kansas City, Kas., Aug. 21 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says the paths to the extreme left and the far right both lead to tyranny—and that the Truman administration is traveling left.

"The greatest problem of America today," he said, "is to take that straight road down the middle, the path of progress that will never allow tyranny to become the feature of the American government."

The Republican presidential nominee set forth those views in a speech last night in Boise, Idaho, and then flew here for a conference today with GOP leaders from seven midwestern states.

Eisenhower's plane circled an hour and 20 minutes before landing at Fairfax Airport early today—waiting for rain and gusts of wind sweeping the runways to moderate.

Eisenhower showed no concern during the wait aloft, chatting with members of his staff most of the time. A crowd of approximately 200 greeted him at the airport and another group cheered him as he entered his hotel for a

British Rescue 37 American Seaman; Ship Is Severed

Liberty Vessel Is Rammed by Norwegian Tanker; Collision Occurs in Rainstorm

Dover, Eng., Aug. 21 (AP)—Two British lifeboats hauled the 37 crewmen of the American Liberty ship Western Farmer from the gale-swept English Channel early today after their freighter, rammed by a Norwegian tanker, split in two and sank.

The lifeboats landed Capt. Gunnar Utvik of Galveston, Tex., and the rest of his crew—some bruised and battered but all safe—at this famous old port of southeast England and at nearby Ramsgate.

The 11,732-ton tanker Bjorgholm, out of Oslo, came through without serious damage. She stood by until the rescue boats picked up the crew of the ill-fated 7,239-ton Western Farmer, a nine-year-old veteran of World War II.

Occurs During Storm

The collision occurred shortly before 10 p. m. last night, in a wind-driven rain near the Goodwin Sands—the "Channel Graveyard" eight miles off the southeast coast of England.

The tanker's bow, one survivor related, smashed into the freighter amidships—"right into the radio room." The crash put the American ship's engines and radio out of action, but emergency signals from a Liberian ship nearby brought rescue craft rushing to the stormy scene.

As searchlights from the rescue ships played over the wallowing wreck, the forward part of the stricken ship broke away and the crew abandoned her, some taking to the ship's boats and others going over the side straight into the rescue craft.

"The forward half sank almost immediately, but as we left, the after part was still afloat but sinking

Black Market Ring Uses Payment Writs to Get Dollars for Red China

Tokyo, Aug. 21 (AP)—U. S. Military authorities and Japanese police today said they have arrested some American servicemen and 73 Japanese, Chinese and Korean Nationals in connection with what they called a $3,000,000-a-year black market ring that feeds dollars to Communists.

Maj. Jack Elliott, judge advocate for the far east air forces, said the ring operates in this manner:

Military payment certificates, used in lieu of money by U. S. forces in Japan, is spent illegally by servicemen in bars, hotels, restaurants and for taxi fares. The certificates are not supposed to be used in dealings with Japanese. The certificates reach money dealers who then pay other servicemen to exchange them for dollar drafts or money orders.

Found in Hong Kong

The money orders and drafts are turning up in Hong Kong, off the Red China mainland, Elliott said, and "it's a conclusion anybody can make that the dollars are going to the Communists" to give the Reds "dollars they need to support their operations in dollar areas over the world."

Elliott said one serviceman has been convicted by an American courtmartial. He declined to give the man's name or say how many more were under arrest.

He said many of the Americans involved were "dupes who didn't know what they were getting into or where the money was going."

Elliott estimated the amount involved at least $3,000,000 a year. He did not say whether the arrests had broken up the operations.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Aug. 19: Net budget receipts $300,946,369.28; budget expenditures $308,703,892.32; cash balance $7,523,165,173.50; customs receipts for month $29,697,787.73; budget receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $6,404,599,308.90; budget expenditures for fiscal year $9,853,287,034.74; budget deficit $4,101,208,579.56; total debt $262,934,098,644.11; increase over previous day $26,181,983.88; gold assets $23,343,463,361.52.

North Korea Capital Hit By Aircraft

Military Installations Are Struck—Osu Attack Occurs in Daylight, Is Report

Marines Go Aloft

Smaller Raids Staged by Corps Fliers North of Yonan

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP)—UN B-29 superforts, B-26s and fighter bombers left Communist factories, stockpiles and troop installations in flames today in two massive raids over northwest Korea.

Thirty-eight Okinawa-based B-29s last night and early today hurled 350 tons of bombs on Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, after civilians were warned to get out. The air force said the big bombers rubbled 400 acres of troop, supply and industrial areas and left huge fires burning at opposite ends of the city in the four-hour strike. All 38 planes returned safely, despite Red anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition.

More than 100 B-26s and fighter bombers followed with a daylight bombing of a giant cement plant at Osu, about 50 miles south of Pyongyang. Returning pilots estimated they destroyed 63 buildings and damaged 29 others.

Third in Two Days

The Osu raid was the third big allied bombing of Communist targets in two days. The air force said 59 buildings were destroyed Wednesday in a 200-plane navy and air force smash at the Red build-up area near Namyang, 25 miles northwest of Pyongyang.

Great clouds of cement dust arose at Osu as the planes bombed structures used for making the concrete for Red military installations.

In smaller raids today, the U. S. Marines said their fliers demolished 10 maintenance buildings at a vehicle park 20 miles north of Yonan and 17 barracks-type

William Bendix Comes to Kingston

Dahl to Arrive Sunday —Picture Shows Only at Uptown House

The scheduled appearance in this city today of Movie Star Arlene Dahl was unexpectedly cancelled last night, but her place will be taken by another Hollywood star, William Bendix.

Miss Dahl, telegramming her regrets to Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly and to Harry Rigby, Jr., of the city's Anniversary committee, promised to be here herself on Sunday for a personal appearance.

To Fulfill Schedule

Benedix, noted for his portrayals of a screen "tough" with a soft heart and lovable character, will fulfill all of Miss Dahl's commitments which had been laid out for her today—except that he will not be adopted by the officers and men of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, NYNG, as "the person by whom they would like to be commanded," it was announced today by Joseph Summers of the Walter Reade Theatres.

That designation, as well as the presentation of the key to the city by Acting Mayor Kelly, will be reserved for Miss Dahl when she appears here Sunday afternoon.

Premier Is Limited

With receipt of the cancellation of Miss Dahl's original plans, the theatre announced that the premiere of her picture, "Caribbean" will be limited to the Kingston Theatre instead of being simultaneously at both Reade theatres in the city as originally scheduled. The Broadway's presentation tonight will be a continuation of the

Democrats Tied To Him and FDR, Truman Declares

President Brushes Off Added Comment on Stevenson Assertion He Would Clean Up 'Mess'—Says HST Is Party 'Key'

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Truman said today he knows nothing about any mess in his administration.

The President also said he thought he knew more about government than any man in the United States.

Truman brushed off with those words requests for comment at his news conference on Gov. Adlai Stevenson's assertion that his record as governor indicated how he would deal with "the mess in Washington."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, used that expression first in a letter to an Oregon editor. Yesterday, he told reporters at Minocqua, Wis., that the best way to deal with the Washington situation would be to name qualified and incorruptible men to government jobs.

No Comment on Sparkman

Truman was asked also for comment on a statement by Democratic vice presidential nominee John Sparkman that the steel strike was "mishandled."

The President replied that he had no comment.

A newsman asked Truman whether these remarks of the Democratic nominees gave him a feeling of being a "target."

Truman said, no, of course not. He went on to say he couldn't possibly be the target—that he was the key of the Democratic campaign, and couldn't possibly be a target of the Democratic candidates.

He said he would be a target for Gen. Eisenhower and his cohorts.

Under questioning as to what he meant by being the "key," the President said the Democratic party has to run on the records of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

These questions came from Jack Bell, veteran AP political reporter, and Truman told Bell that he knew that from his long experience in covering politics.

Says Ike Garbled It

During the exchanges on politics, reporters went back to a statement Truman made at his news conference of last week—that Eisenhower had sort of garbled some of the things Truman had told him.

Truman said today he could not recall saying that.

He was asked what Eisenhower had garbled.

Truman said maybe the general

Margaret Truman's Guards Called Tough Guys Abroad

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The question of whether Margaret Truman's gun-toting bodyguard roughhoused Swedish citizens ping-ponged across the Atlantic today, trailing official denial, comment—and silence.

Swedish newspapers had first say Tuesday. They reported what they called "tough guy" tactics used by three Secret Service agents accompanying the President's daughter on her European tour.

The Swedish newspaper Expressen said the bodyguards flung aside a photographer who tried to snap Miss Truman's picture at Stockholm's Central Station, blocked a theatre entrance until her arrival there and kept newsmen and photographers outside Stockholm's Town Hall while she visited it.

Aftonbladet, Sweden's biggest newspaper, called the agents "gorillas." It said they were uncouth and intercepted Swedes who wanted to pass "any place where it pleases Miss Truman to be at a given moment."

Then Aftonbladet flung a barb: "Miss Truman is not in danger of her life in Stockholm * * * we understand that she is not going to sing here."

Another press item described the Secret Service men as "three tough guys with their left armpits bulging with artillery."

The White House bounced back an unequivocal denial. Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, said:

"Our preliminary reports indi-

Cost of Living Hits New Peak, Sharp Rise in Foods Cited

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The cost of living as measured by the government reached a new record today, bringing a three-cent hourly pay hike to more than one million auto workers.

The newest consumer's price index, reflecting the cost of food, clothing, shelter and other consumer items as of July 15, moved to 190.8 per cent of the 1935-1939 average.

It was 1.2 points higher than the June index and 5 per cent higher than the level of January, 1951, when price and wage controls took effect.

The increase continued a steady, five months' climb in the cost of living for moderate income city families.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), an arm of the Labor Department, publishes a cost of living index each month.

BLS said "a sharp rise" in food prices was primarily responsible for the higher overall living costs.

Miscellaneous goods and services, including higher automobile insurance rates and medical care, advanced three-tenths of one per cent, rents were up two-tenths of one per cent, and food advanced one and one half per cent between June 15 and July 15.

The 11,732-ton tanker Bjorgholm, out of Oslo, came through without serious damage. She stood by until the rescue boats picked up the crew of the ill-fated 7,239-ton Western Farmer, a nine-year-old veteran of World War II.

Occurs During Storm

The collision occurred shortly before 10 p. m. last night, in a wind-driven rain near the Goodwin Sands—the "Channel Graveyard" eight miles off the southeast coast of England.

The tanker's bow, one survivor related, smashed into the freighter amidships—"right into the radio room." The crash put the American ship's engines and radio out of action, but emergency signals from a Liberian ship nearby brought rescue craft rushing to the stormy scene.

As searchlights from the rescue ships played over the wallowing wreck, the forward part of the stricken ship broke away and the crew abandoned her, some taking to the ship's boats and others going over the side straight into the rescue craft.

"The forward half sank almost immediately, but as we left, the after part was still afloat but sink-

Black Market Ring Uses Payment Writs to Get Dollars for Red China

Tokyo, Aug. 21 (AP)—U. S. Military authorities and Japanese police today said they have arrested some American servicemen and 73 Japanese, Chinese and Korean Nationals in connection with what they called a $3,000,000-a-year black market ring that feeds dollars to Communists.

Maj. Jack Elliott, judge advocate for the far east air forces, said the ring operates in this manner:

Military payment certificates, used in lieu of money by U. S. forces in Japan, is spent illegally by servicemen in bars, hotels, restaurants and for taxi fares. The certificates are not supposed to be used in dealings with Japanese. The certificates reach money dealers who then pay other servicemen to exchange them for dollar drafts or money orders.

Found in Hong Kong

The money orders and drafts are turning up in Hong Kong, off the Red China mainland, Elliott said, and "it's a conclusion anybody can make that the dollars are going to the Communists" to give the Reds "dollars they need to support their operations in dollar areas over the world."

Elliott said one serviceman has been convicted by an American courtmartial. He declined to give the man's name or say how many more were under arrest.

He said many of the Americans involved were "dupes who didn't know what they were getting into or where the money was going."

Elliott estimated the amount involved at least $3,000,000 a year. He did not say whether the arrests had broken up the operations.

BARNETT NEWMAN

Woodstock will be host tomorrow (Friday) to 15 of the nation's most prominent artists, philosophers, designers and writers as the fourth annual Woodstock Art Conference opens in the buildings of the Art Students League summer school.

The two-day conference hopes to bring "new significance" to the relationship between philosophers who speculate about art, and artists who practice it. Its title is "Aesthetics and the Artist." The

Smaller Raids Staged by Corps Fliers North of Yonan

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP)—UN B-29 superforts, B-26s and fighter bombers left Communist factories, stockpiles and troop installations in flames today in two massive raids over northwest Korea.

Thirty-eight Okinawa-based B-29s last night and early today hurled 350 tons of bombs on Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, after civilians were warned to get out. The air force said the big bombers rubbled 400 acres of troop, supply and industrial areas and left huge fires burning at opposite ends of the city in the four-hour strike. All 38 planes returned safely, despite Red anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition.

More than 100 B-26s and fighter bombers followed with a daylight bombing of a giant cement plant at Osu, about 50 miles south of Pyongyang. Returning pilots estimated they destroyed 63 buildings and damaged 29 others.

Third in Two Days

The Osu raid was the third big allied bombing of Communist targets in two days. The air force said 59 buildings were destroyed Wednesday in a 200-plane navy and air force smash at the Red build-up area near Namyang, 25 miles northwest of Pyongyang.

Great clouds of cement dust arose at Osu as the planes bombed structures used for making the concrete for Red military installations.

In smaller raids today, the U. S. Marines said their fliers demolished 10 maintenance buildings at a vehicle park 20 miles north of Yonan and 17 barracks-type

William Bendix Comes to Kingston

Dahl to Arrive Sunday —Picture Shows Only at Uptown House

The scheduled appearance in this city today of Movie Star Arlene Dahl was unexpectedly cancelled last night, but her place will be taken by another Hollywood star, William Bendix.

Miss Dahl, telegramming her regrets to Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly and to Harry Rigby, Jr., of the city's Anniversary committee, promised to be here herself on Sunday for a personal appearance.

To Fulfill Schedule

Benedix, noted for his portrayals of a screen "tough" with a soft heart and lovable character, will fulfill all of Miss Dahl's commitments which had been laid out for her today—except that he will not be adopted by the officers and men of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, NYNG, as "the person by whom they would like to be commanded," it was announced today by Joseph Summers of the Walter Reade Theatres.

That designation, as well as the presentation of the key to the city by Acting Mayor Kelly, will be reserved for Miss Dahl when she appears here Sunday afternoon.

Premier Is Limited

With receipt of the cancellation of Miss Dahl's original plans, the theatre announced that the premiere of her picture, "Caribbean" will be limited to the Kingston Theatre instead of being simultaneously at both Reade theatres in the city as originally scheduled. The Broadway's presentation tonight will be a continuation of the

Democrats Tied To Him and FDR, Truman Declares

President Brushes Off Added Comment on Stevenson Assertion He Would Clean Up 'Mess'—Says HST Is Party 'Key'

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Truman said today he knows nothing about any mess in his administration.

The President also said he thought he knew more about government than any man in the United States.

Truman brushed off with those words requests for comment at his news conference on Gov. Adlai Stevenson's assertion that his record as governor indicated how he would deal with "the mess in Washington."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, used that expression first in a letter to an Oregon editor. Yesterday, he told reporters at Minocqua, Wis., that the best way to deal with the Washington situation would be to name qualified and incorruptible men to government jobs.

No Comment on Sparkman

Truman was asked also for comment on a statement by Democratic vice presidential nominee John Sparkman that the steel strike was "mishandled."

The President replied that he had no comment.

A newsman asked Truman whether these remarks of the Democratic nominees gave him a feeling of being a "target."

Truman said, no, of course not. He went on to say he couldn't possibly be the target—that he was the key of the Democratic campaign, and couldn't possibly be a target of the Democratic candidates.

He said he would be a target for Gen. Eisenhower and his cohorts.

Under questioning as to what he meant by being the "key," the President said the Democratic party has to run on the records of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

These questions came from Jack Bell, veteran AP political reporter, and Truman told Bell that he knew that from his long experience in covering politics.

Says Ike Garbled It

During the exchanges on politics, reporters went back to a statement Truman made at his news conference of last week—that Eisenhower had sort of garbled some of the things Truman had told him.

Truman said today he could not recall saying that.

He was asked what Eisenhower had garbled.

Truman said maybe the general

Margaret Truman's Guards Called Tough Guys Abroad

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The question of whether Margaret Truman's gun-toting bodyguard roughhoused Swedish citizens ping-ponged across the Atlantic today, trailing official denial, comment—and silence.

Swedish newspapers had first say Tuesday. They reported what they called "tough guy" tactics used by three Secret Service agents accompanying the President's daughter on her European tour.

The Swedish newspaper Expressen said the bodyguards flung aside a photographer who tried to snap Miss Truman's picture at Stockholm's Central Station, blocked a theatre entrance until her arrival there and kept newsmen and photographers outside Stockholm's Town Hall while she visited it.

Aftonbladet, Sweden's biggest newspaper, called the agents "gorillas." It said they were uncouth and intercepted Swedes who wanted to pass "any place where it pleases Miss Truman to be at a given moment."

Then Aftonbladet flung a barb: "Miss Truman is not in danger of her life in Stockholm * * * we understand that she is not going to sing here."

Another press item described the Secret Service men as "three tough guys with their left armpits bulging with artillery."

The White House bounced back an unequivocal denial. Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, said:

"Our preliminary reports indi-

Cost of Living Hits New Peak, Sharp Rise in Foods Cited

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The cost of living as measured by the government reached a new record today, bringing a three-cent hourly pay hike to more than one million auto workers.

The newest consumer's price index, reflecting the cost of food, clothing, shelter and other consumer items as of July 15, moved to 190.8 per cent of the 1935-1939 average.

It was 1.2 points higher than the June index and 5 per cent higher than the level of January, 1951, when price and wage controls took effect.

The increase continued a steady, five months' climb in the cost of living for moderate income city families.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), an arm of the Labor Department, publishes a cost of living index each month.

BLS said "a sharp rise" in food prices was primarily responsible for the higher overall living costs.

Miscellaneous goods and services, including higher automobile insurance rates and medical care, advanced three-tenths of one per cent, rents were up two-tenths of one per cent, and food advanced one and one half per cent between June 15 and July 15.

Health for All

Treatment of Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis is a chronic, communicable disease which strikes approximately 115,000 people in this country each year.

TB can be cured. It is easiest to cure when it is found in an early stage — before extensive damage is done to the lungs—and the patient begins treatment promptly.

Tuberculosis is best treated in a tuberculosis hospital. First of all, complete rest, mental and physical, is basic to the cure of TB, and every phase of hospital life is set up to make this rest not only possible but easier for the patient than it would be otherwise.

At the hospital, too, the patient is constantly under medical and nursing care and his condition and progress are watched carefully.

Often supplementary aids to bed rest, such as drugs or surgery, are indicated for the patient. Surgery obviously must be performed in a hospital and drugs, likewise, should be administered only in a hospital, under careful supervision.

One of the great advantages of hospital treatment is the fact that the patient is in the company of others fighting tuberculosis in the same way, working hard—even though they are resting—to regain their health.

Because tuberculosis is communicable, the tuberculosis patient also knows that in a hospital he cannot spread his illness to his family and friends. Precautions are taken in the hospital to prevent his disease from being spread to others.

In many tuberculosis hospitals, the patient receives invaluable aid in "accepting his illness," staying until his cure is complete, and in preparing himself to return eventually to the community, a useful and self-supporting member of society.

The person who has tuberculosis should take immediate steps to enter a tuberculosis hospital for treatment. The doctor can help the patient make arrangements promptly for his hospitalization, and the sick person can also get advice and assistance from his local tuberculosis association.

Four Trapped in Cavern

Muotathal, Switzerland, Aug. 20 (AP)—Four Swiss men have been trapped in an underground cavern near here for five days, police disclosed today. The men entered the underground network of caverns—known as "Hell's Hole"—Friday, police said. Rising waters cut them off and it has been impossible to communicate with them. Police said they believed the men were in no immediate danger. Food sufficient for 10 days had been left in the cavern by a previous party of explorers.

Treatment of Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis is a chronic, communicable disease which strikes approximately 115,000 people in this country each year.

TB can be cured. It is easiest to cure when it is found in an early stage — before extensive damage is done to the lungs—and the patient begins treatment promptly.

Tuberculosis is best treated in a tuberculosis hospital. First of all, complete rest, mental and physical, is basic to the cure of TB, and every phase of hospital life is set up to make this rest not only possible but easier for the patient than it would be otherwise.

At the hospital, too, the patient is constantly under medical and nursing care and his condition and progress are watched carefully.

Often supplementary aids to bed rest, such as drugs or surgery, are indicated for the patient. Surgery obviously must be performed in a hospital and drugs, likewise, should be administered only in a hospital, under careful supervision.

One of the great advantages of hospital treatment is the fact that the patient is in the company of others fighting tuberculosis in the same way, working hard—even though they are resting—to regain their health.

Because tuberculosis is communicable, the tuberculosis patient also knows that in a hospital he cannot spread his illness to his family and friends. Precautions are taken in the hospital to prevent his disease from being spread to others.

In many tuberculosis hospitals, the patient receives invaluable aid in "accepting his illness," staying until his cure is complete, and in preparing himself to return eventually to the community, a useful and self-supporting member of society.

The person who has tuberculosis should take immediate steps to enter a tuberculosis hospital for treatment. The doctor can help the patient make arrangements promptly for his hospitalization, and the sick person can also get advice and assistance from his local tuberculosis association.

Four Trapped in Cavern

Muotathal, Switzerland, Aug. 20 (AP)—Four Swiss men have been trapped in an underground cavern near here for five days, police disclosed today. The men entered the underground network of caverns—known as "Hell's Hole"—Friday, police said. Rising waters cut them off and it has been impossible to communicate with them. Police said they believed the men were in no immediate danger. Food sufficient for 10 days had been left in the cavern by a previous party of explorers.

ROCKETS GOOD AND BAD

Perhaps the legend of the Phoenix rising from the fire to fly anew is not based on pure fancy. Maybe deriving good from the flames of evil is a possbility.

News comes from Cologne, Germany, that a rocket is on display there, built by members of the Society for Rocket Research, which will carry mail across the Atlantic at the rate of almost 3,000 miles an hour, making it possible to mail a letter in London and have it in New York in a few hours.

These mail-bearing rockets could arc across America from New York to Los Angeles in about the same time it takes to send a telegram. South America is drawn within easy reach of Chicago, Seattle, New York, Dakar, Lisbon and London.

Taking a deep breath, we realize a complete new era in direct communication is opening. Nor are these idle conjectures. The facts behind the rockets were gathered from the cold ashes of English cities crushed under buzz-bombs, V-1 and V-2 rockets. From war came the data to guide the mail-rockets on their courses.

Members of the rocket society who built the model exhibited in Germany include scientists who designed the V-bombs. As they worked under pressure to develop an instrument to destroy, so they have now evolved a boon to man. If put into operation, it may benefit many more lives of the future than V-bombs destroyed in the past.

SHAMING AMERICA

The bitterest opponent of President Truman will indorse his latest utterance, in which he urged a larger vote. He says truly that in this respect many other countries put us to shame. In 1948 only 51 per cent of the eligible voters here went to the polls. In the last general elections in their respective countries 75 per cent of the French voted, 75 per cent of the Canadians, 83 per cent of the English and 90 per cent of the Belgians. Other countries which the President listed made comparable showings.

This eminently justifies the drive to get out the vote, now being started by the American Heritage Foundation. Its aim is more modest than an attempt to equal the showing of foreign nations. It hopes to bring the 1948 total of 48,000,000 up to 63,000,000. This would be roughly only 66 per cent of the eligibles, but would be an improvement. Depend upon it, our present lack of interest in voting is regarded with glee by Moscow.

TESTING CONGRESSMEN

J. Russell Smith, professor emeritus of economics geography at Columbia University, recently suggested that no man should be allowed to run for Congress unless he had passed a rigorous examination in geography.

"Congressmen," he said, "are dealing with foreign affairs, and they hold our lives in their hands. They should know something about the countries we are dealing with."

Professor Smith has a wonderful idea, but why limit the test to geography? Congressmen should also be tested on their knowledge of economics since in many ways they control the economy of the world. Their knowledge of history and current events, their reading ability and their knowledge of agriculture and military science are all factors which should interest voters.

A test like this would insure educated Congressmen. It isn't feasible, however, in a democracy where people are free to choose whomever they please to represent them in Congress. Besides, education isn't the only qualification for a good Congressman. His honesty, his conscientiousness,—qualities difficult to test—are of equal or even greater importance.

In short, there is no way to find out in advance how good a Congressman a man will be. An alert electorate, though, can guarantee quality performance if it speedily kicks out inefficient Congressmen and other elected officials.

One of the biggest advantages in not talking too much is the extra time it allows one to think.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE "WITCH-HUNT"

In January, 1948, Professor Fred Rodell of Yale, wrote an article for "The Progressive," on the subject of the "Witch-Hunt." That, of course, was before the conviction of Alger Hiss, before the disclosure of Klaus Fuchs, before the disappearance behind the Iron Curtain of two members of the British Foreign Office who had specialized in American affairs, before the spy trials and the proof of the theft of the atom bomb, and the Foley Square trials. Rodell wrote before the McCarran Committee had investigated the Institute of Pacific Relations and reported that it had found that so-called scholarly agency a mechanism for Soviet propaganda and intrigue in this country.

Professor Fred Rodell also wrote this article before Soviet Russia entered upon her war in Korea by unorthodox methods, employing another nation as a proxy.

I do not emphasize the "beforeness" of Professor Rodell's article to explain it away. Rather, it shows how men of position and intelligence are often proved to be wholly wrong by the course of events. Also not to be accused of "hindsight," which is the new line adopted by the liberals to explain away their lack of information and errors of judgment, I need only say that a large group of other writers, including myself, were giving the public the facts on this subject that have been borne out by the course of events.

Professor Rodell, in this article, makes this point:

"Right at the start, let's get it straight that the powers behind the Washington witch-hunt are not after Communists, except very incidentally. The powers behind the witch-hunt are the reactionary Republicans and the reactionary Southern Democrats in the Congress of the United States—plus their reactionary backers."

Today, in 1952, the evidence does not bear out Professor Rodell's charge. The evidence has been established in courts, in several parts of the United States, in decisions of the Supreme Court, in the investigations of congressional committees, in investigations in Germany and Japan, Canada and Great Britain, that the Communists have engaged in a conspiracy to undermine, overthrow by force, violence, intrigue, conspiracy, agitation, and corruption, our form of government. The existence of the Harold Ware Cell, important in this conspiracy, was established in the Alger Hiss trials and in the confession of Lee Pressman who admitted membership in it.

Professor Fred Rodell apparently dislikes the FBI. He states:

"And it is they—not the Department of Justice nor the President himself—who completely control, through their power of appropriation, that potentially sinister secret police force, the FBI, on whose investigations the bulk of the Witch-Hunt has been and will be based."

If a gangster or kidnaper or narcotics smuggler called the FBI a "potentially sinister secret police force," most of us would shrug it off on the assumption that the FBI has something on the guy. When we read such a statement, in a serious magazine, written by a law professor of Yale University, we assume that it is a product of scholarship. It surely makes some impression on the students who sit at his feet quaffing their search for learning.

This professor of law is trained in the rules of evidence. He knows that evidence is not opinion but fact. In this article written more than four years ago, but nine years after Whittaker Chambers had laid the facts of the Alger Hiss case before A. A. Berle, Jr., in the presence of Isaac Don Levine, Rodell gives his reasons for being shocked that seven State Department employes were fired as security risks:

"None of these men was any more of a Communist than J. Parnell Thomas; if they had been, the firm of Arnold, Fortas & Porter, who courageously handled their case, would never have touched it. . . ."

This obiter dicta implies that every lawyer is convinced of his client's innocence, which is actually antagonistic to our concept of the law. We believe that a man, even a guilty man, even one caught in the act, is entitled to his day in court, to be represented by a lawyer. When he has no money, the court generally appoints counsel for him. The fact that a lawyer represents a client does not establish the guilt or innocense of the client or the lawyer. It only means that he has a lawyer.

Maybe, a course in logic is needed in the Yale Law School.

HELPING THE CHRONICALLY ILL

As we look about us on the world today and see what greed or selfishness has done to us, we may be discouraged, yet, within the lifetime of most of us, there have come great advances in the health and happiness of all mankind, particularly the poor and needy. Some of these advances and benefits come immediately to mind — workmen's compensation, the tuberculosis societies, the American Heart Association, arthritis and hard of hearing societies, Public Affairs Association, hospital boards and many others, made up of men and women who, without pay or compensation in any form, give of their time and money for the sake of the health and happiness of others.

And now we have an organization that is giving time, thought and energy to help those who are living out their lives one day at a time, never enjoying ordinary good health: the chronically ill.

Those of us in average good health cannot even guess what it means to be always sick and, in most cases, without even average facilities for getting something out of life.

This challenge to the medical profession to become aware of the needs of the chronically ill and do something about it has resulted in the formation of the National Commission on Chronic Illness. The commission, under the direction of Dr. Dean W. Roberts will survey 13,000 persons in 4,000 families in Baltimore, Maryland, in a study of chronic disease and the needs of the chronically ill.

The Baltimore study of chronic disease among city dwellers is a companion study to one among the rural population in Hunterdon county, New Jersey. Results of medical studies of persons in the test groups found to be chronically ill will be to evaluate or learn their needs for medical care and related services—welfare, social service, hospitalization. The studies are expected to obtain significant information on the extent of chronic illness present in both city and country populations. The study of the needs of the chronically ill is expected to cover several years.

I mentioned in 1949 the foundation of the commission by the American Medical Association, The American Hospital Association, American Public Health Association and the American Public Welfare Association.

In addition to these four "founding" organizations, a $300,000 budget set by the commission for the coming four-year period has been met by twelve contributing organizations.

The lift in the morale of these individuals who are always sick, never well, can be equaled only by the lift in the morale of the members of the organizations behind this humanitarian effort.

Rheumatism and Arthritis

Sufferers with chronic rheumatism and arthritis will receive many helpful suggestions as to diet, heat, massage, etc., in Dr. Barton's booklet "Rheumatism and Arthritis," which may be obtained by sending 25 cents to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

"You're Kicking In to My Fund, Too, Ain'tcha, Chum?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By SEN. ESTES KEFAUVER

McMinnville, Tenn.—During the last few weeks, I have been resting from the hardest campaign of my life. I lost the campaign, but my faith in the basic greatness of the American people has been increased tremendously by this experience.

I don't want anyone to get the impression that I enjoyed losing. I don't like to lose, any better than the next fellow. It was especially hard to lose in this case, when we had been at it for so long and my friends had worked so hard for me.

When the Democratic convention was over, my wife Nancy and I came to McMinnville, Tenn., to get some rest in the country on a farm of a good friend of ours, Cowan Oldham. I didn't want to talk about the convention when friends came to see me, but the subject always seemed to come up, and to be frank I think I brought it up as often as anyone else. I couldn't sleep at night, although I tried to relax my mind and get good and tired swimming, fishing, and boating with the children.

I would keep going over the events of the convention in my mind, trying to see where I could have changed things by taking a different course. Should I have held out and tried to deadlock the convention? Did I do right in going to the convention hall to withdraw? Should I have advised my friends to vote differently on some of the issues?

"Stop worrying about it, Estes," Nancy told me at last. "You did your best and the people realize it. They believe in you regardless of the outcome."

My friends were very understanding. They wrote me thousands of encouraging letters from every section of the nation. Those who lived near enough came to see me. When I went to Memphis to make a radio and television talk, they gave us such a welcome and were so thoughtful of us that I began to feel for the first time that things weren't so bad after all.

Rewards of Campaign

I began to see some of the good things that came out of our campaign, even though we were beaten.

Campaigning across the nation is a tremendous experience. I should certainly be a better equipped senator as a result. Now I know first hand of the attitudes and ambitions of our people in every section of the nation. River development in the Far West, loss of industry in New England, special farm problems of many regions, bigotry, religious and racial intolerance are to me no longer problems to study merely from congressional hearings. I have seen them first hand.

Too often in Washington we tend to become cynical and disillusioned. When one has an opportunity of visiting as I have, the people in every section of the nation, that cynicism is washed away. This campaign has reassured me of the spiritual and economic sturdiness of our great people.

From a personal standpoint, the campaign was very rewarding. Nancy and I have made good friends in every section of the country, from New Hampshire to California and from Wisconsin to Florida.

The loyalty of these friends would be inspiring to any man. I think when I was sitting on the platform during that last ballot at the convention, waiting to make my announcement of withdrawal, I saw an exhibition of the personal greatness of men and women which has made America the nation it is.

These delegates knew my purpose in coming to the convention hall. As the roll call went on, it was obvious I had no chance. By all the rules of political conduct, it was to their interest to get on the winning side.

Some of them carried the mandate of the people of their state. Others, in states where they had no primary, had pledged support individually. With very few exceptions they stood up and counted their votes for a lost cause, because they were truly loyal.

Campaign Memories

As each delegation cast its vote, memories crowded in on me of long, hard campaigns, in the hot sun of California and Florida, through the cold snow of New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska. I remembered the courage of free people fighting against dictatorial and selfish political machines, and the enthusiasm of inspired young citizens who had never taken an active part in politics before. I remembered victory celebrations with New Englanders, with Middle Westerners and Far Westerners; and I remembered one or two post-mortems when we were beaten.

I do not think these good people who supported me lost what they were fighting for. They had a lot to do with the Democratic party presenting a sound and progressive platform. Also, I have a deep conviction that many beneficial reforms such as a federal presidential primary law will emerge.

They want our government to work steadfastly for peace with honor, for high integrity in government, for elimination of criminal influences, for clean politics with young people and women being brought more actively into the councils of the party.

I am glad to be able to say to those fine people all over the United States who stood shoulder to shoulder with me: We haven't lost—we have won a great deal. We won because we played the game hard and fair, we made no deals, and we didn't abandon the principles in which we believe. We won, because no man and no campaign group can say honestly that a cause is lost when it has resulted in such an outpouring of public interest in the basic things of which our American democracy is built.

I have visited with Governor Stevenson since the convention. He appreciates the fact that accomplishing these things is not only the desire but the mandate of the rank and file Democrat, and my good friend and neighbor John Sparkman and I have fought together in the Senate for these principles. While Governor Stevenson was not exactly my first choice for the Democratic nomination, I wish him good luck and trust he will carry the invigorated Democratic party on to a great victory.

Eisenhower Is Viewed as Having Received Some Bad Advice for His Campaign

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 21—If the Boise, Idaho, speech by General Eisenhower is a sample of the strategy he has been advised to use in his campaign, then the Republican presidential nominee has received some bad advice.

For here at the opening of the campaign, when the nation might have expected a clear-cut outline of the issues as they have been drawn between the Truman-Stevenson party on the one hand and the opposition on the other, the only thing that is offered is an appeal to the country not to be misled by either the "left" or the "right" but to adopt a course which the general's speech calls "the middle way."

As philosophical doctrine in the field of policital science, it may have some merit, but, as a piece of campaign strategy, it is a species of neutrality that spells colorlessness, compromise and straddle.

For while, in the battle over issues of the day, extremists of the "left" and "right" are to be deplored, so are the extremists of the "middle way" often the unwitting sponsors of confusion and delay.

When President Truman seized the steel mills under the "inherent powers" claim, it was an extreme step. It was 100 per cent wrong because it violated the constitution, and the people who opposed the step proved it was wrong. Either there is a law to sanction such a policy, or there isn't. There was no "middle way" in the seizure issue.

When the Truman administration decided to yield to its fears of an "enlarged war" in Korea and declined to use maximum power, the "middle way" meant procrastination and delay, and only after a year were the American air forces given permission to bomb vital bases in North Korea, though, in the interim period of compromise and temporizing, the enemy was able to achieve a big buildup of its planes and troops. That was the "middle way."

The issues before the American people which have a "left" and "right" connotation aren't going to be settled by a third course—A "middle way" which rejects them both. Often there is a good deal of substance in the position of those on the "right" or the "left," respectively, and to reject them both and try a third way can mean no solution at all. More often, a flat decision against the "right" is as desirable as on other occasions is a flat decision against the "left."

It has long been the habit of politicians to avoid commitments of positive nature and to try to balance conflicting groups on the theory that this is the way to get votes from both sides. It is often called "carrying water on both shoulders."

This kind of strategy sometimes succeeds in politics when the electorate is unable to make up its mind between opposing viewpoints, especially when the issues aren't clear. But corruption in Washington, for instance, is clear. The public has made up its mind that such misbehavior by officialdom is reprehensible. There is no "middle way" on that issue.

The Eisenhower speech seems to be the product of amateur advisers who haven't yet come to grips with the realities of the campaign or with the importance of being positive. Vague generalities will never win a campaign against a party entrenched in power for 20 years.

This is a campaign where the only chance the opposition has to get votes is to call a spade a spade and to recognize frankly that before talking about alternatives—whether they are in the "middle center" or "left of center" or "right of center"—it is essential that the American people be made aware of just what the dangers of the "left" have been under the New Deal and Fair Deal, and what they will be if the present administration is vindicated at the polls in November. The important point now is to tell the people frankly what damage has been done by the "left," and, if the people don't care to change this, then there is not much use telling them that there is a "middle way" or that, in swinging toward the middle, the pendulum won't be allowed to go all the way to the extreme "right." The risk is that the people, if they remain unaware of what the "left" has really done, may come to the conclusion that the "left" isn't so bad, after all.

Discussion of ideological abstractions, moreover, is not good enough for a campaign that will be won or lost by sledge-hammer blows. While President Truman's speeches in 1948 were by no means informative as to alternatives he would offer, they did have the political value of striking hard at the opposition, which the Eisenhower strategy doesn't seem to be ready to do. The Eisenhower speech still seems to be in the preconvention mood of hostility to the "right" wing of the party.

Maybe the general's strategists think a slow start at low pressure is a good way to achieve momentum later on. But it does look as if the brain trust in faraway Denver is out of touch with a rapidly developing trend away from Eisenhower on the part of former Taft supporters and a definite trend toward Stevenson on the part of the "left wing" and its allies. If that doesn't soon suggest a different strategy, then the Eisenhower strategists may never come to understand the basic force of the 1952 presidential campaign.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Some idolators of the Hyde Park Haunt wince audibly at occasional irreverent alusions to his widow as La Boca and La Boca Grande. La Boca is Spanish for "the mouth" and La Boca Grande means "the big mouth."

La Boca, or La Boca Grande, is a professional politician of aggressive and, I must insist upon saying, impudent and audacious bearing. When women entered our politics, the advocates of suffrage insisted that they would ask for no special consideration. It had always been our habit to hang nicknames on prominent persons in politics, crime and sport as examples of which I cite you Bathhouse John Coughlin, also known as The Bath; Hinky-Dink Kenna; Old Hickory; Red Mike Hylan; Muley Doughton; Cotton Ed Smith; Cyclone Davis and Huey Long, the Kingfish. In the underworld we have had Two-Gun Crowley; Mike De Pike Heitler; Monkey Charlie Genker; Cokey Flo; Mad Dog Coll; Gyp the Blood and Marchine-Gun Kelly.

The late Bill Klem, the National League umpire, would throw any man out of a ballgame whom he caught in the act of calling him Catfish. The reason why the athletes sometimes called Bill Catfish was that someone, probably from the region of the muddy midwestern rivers, had observed that his mouth was wide, mirthless and firmly set. Another umpire, this one an American Leaguer named Guthrie, spent a few wretched years in constant imbroglio. He had trouble remembering what constituted "force" in a force-out. The athletes called him Dogface. To be sure, he did have a strong, prognathous chin not unlike an English bulldog's, but I used to cherish a theory that they were referring to the fact that he had been a Doughboy, or Dogface, in France. He was a very nice fellow.

John McGraw resented the name of Muggsy and made several spectacular protests, some of them coming to bloodshed, but he never lived it down. Cleveland had a pitcher named Water Mails who was called Duster because it was suspected that he threw at the batter's cap button now and again to dust him back from the plate. Kid Gleason was "Kid" into his sere and yellow and Jimmy Dykes, who was playing third for Connie Mack in the Kid's last days, used to call him Abner or Ab, after Abner Doubleday, who was implicated in the early formulation of baseball. There was an outfielder on the same club named Miller who was called Booker T., or Uncle Tom Miller, because his complexion was swarthy. Gene Fowler is called Booker for the same reason.

Fainting Phil Scott; Fred Fulton, the plastered plasterer; Kewpie Ertle and a handsome heavyweight with a crockey chin named the Diving Adonis all come readily to mind. Helen Wills was called poker face and Molla Mallory, a Norwegian with features faintly suggesting the Eskimo, sometimes was the reindeer milkmaid in print.

I do not admire Eleanor Roosevelt but believe she has been the most deleterious character in American life, with the exception of her husband, since the founding of the republic. It is not possible to determine the extent of her guilt apart from his because so much of their destructive work was done en famille. For some time she insisted that she was not a politican but, after a while, that became so silly that she ceased to protest. I doubt that she ever admitted that she was a politician but it makes no difference whether she admits it or not. She was and she is and we do know, too, that she exerted herself in the interest of Hans Eisler, Mrs. Earl Browder, Joe Lash, Mervyn Rathborne, and Alger Hiss and yet has the effrontery to warn us against Communist propaganda as though she had been on guard against communism, Communists and fellow-travelers all her life. She should never have been given any official position and she should be thrown out now.

In view of her activities, including also her exploitation of her husband's office for personal enrichment and her connivance at similar activities by her children, this woman deserves not even the minimum respect that one freely and instinctively accords a woman, presuming her to be a lady. I need not go into any hair-splitting discussions of the qualifications of a lady. The subject is twin to the problem of the angels dancing on the point of a pin, but that deference is a handicap to the opponents of a female machine politician. My contention is that La Boca has been a politician in the coarsest and least respectable sense of that term and is no less eligible for the same treatment that crude politicians receive than any male on the same ethical plane. Some of us wage controversy with delicate sarcasm. Some use a meat-axe. One of the direc-

ROCKETS GOOD AND BAD

Perhaps the legend of the Phoenix rising from the fire to fly anew is not based on pure fancy. Maybe deriving good from the flames of evil is a possbility.

News comes from Cologne, Germany, that a rocket is on display there, built by members of the Society for Rocket Research, which will carry mail across the Atlantic at the rate of almost 3,000 miles an hour, making it possible to mail a letter in London and have it in New York in a few hours.

These mail-bearing rockets could arc across America from New York to Los Angeles in about the same time it takes to send a telegram. South America is drawn within easy reach of Chicago, Seattle, New York, Dakar, Lisbon and London.

Taking a deep breath, we realize a complete new era in direct communication is opening. Nor are these idle conjectures. The facts behind the rockets were gathered from the cold ashes of English cities crushed under buzz-bombs, V-1 and V-2 rockets. From war came the data to guide the mail-rockets on their courses.

Members of the rocket society who built the model exhibited in Germany include scientists who designed the V-bombs. As they worked under pressure to develop an instrument to destroy, so they have now evolved a boon to man. If put into operation, it may benefit many more lives of the future than V-bombs destroyed in the past.

SHAMING AMERICA

The bitterest opponent of President Truman will indorse his latest utterance, in which he urged a larger vote. He says truly that in this respect many other countries put us to shame. In 1948 only 51 per cent of the eligible voters here went to the polls. In the last general elections in their respective countries 75 per cent of the French voted, 75 per cent of the Canadians, 83 per cent of the English and 90 per cent of the Belgians. Other countries which the President listed made comparable showings.

This eminently justifies the drive to get out the vote, now being started by the American Heritage Foundation. Its aim is more modest than an attempt to equal the showing of foreign nations. It hopes to bring the 1948 total of 48,000,000 up to 63,000,000. This would be roughly only 66 per cent of the eligibles, but would be an improvement. Depend upon it, our present lack of interest in voting is regarded with glee by Moscow.

TESTING CONGRESSMEN

J. Russell Smith, professor emeritus of economics geography at Columbia University, recently suggested that no man should be allowed to run for Congress unless he had passed a rigorous examination in geography.

"Congressmen," he said, "are dealing with foreign affairs, and they hold our lives in their hands. They should know something about the countries we are dealing with."

Professor Smith has a wonderful idea, but why limit the test to geography? Congressmen should also be tested on their knowledge of economics since in many ways they control the economy of the world. Their knowledge of history and current events, their reading ability and their knowledge of agriculture and military science are all factors which should interest voters.

A test like this would insure educated Congressmen. It isn't feasible, however, in a democracy where people are free to choose whomever they please to represent them in Congress. Besides, education isn't the only qualification for a good Congressman. His honesty, his conscientiousness,—qualities difficult to test—are of equal or even greater importance.

In short, there is no way to find out in advance how good a Congressman a man will be. An alert electorate, though, can guarantee quality performance if it speedily kicks out inefficient Congressmen and other elected officials.

One of the biggest advantages in not talking too much is the extra time it allows one to think.

'These Days'

THE "WITCH-HUNT"

In January, 1948, Professor Fred Rodell of Yale, wrote an article for "The Progressive," on the subject of the "Witch-Hunt." That, of course, was before the conviction of Alger Hiss, before the disclosure of Klaus Fuchs, before the disappearance behind the Iron Curtain of two members of the British Foreign Office who had specialized in American affairs, before the spy trials and the proof of the theft of the atom bomb, and the Foley Square trials. Rodell wrote before the McCarran Committee had investigated the Institute of Pacific Relations and reported that it had found that so-called scholarly agency a mechanism for Soviet propaganda and intrigue in this country.

Professor Fred Rodell also wrote this article before Soviet Russia entered upon her war in Korea by unorthodox methods, employing another nation as a proxy.

I do not emphasize the "beforeness" of Professor Rodell's article to explain it away. Rather, it shows how men of position and intelligence are often proved to be wholly wrong by the course of events. Also not to be accused of "hindsight," which is the new line adopted by the liberals to explain away their lack of information and errors of judgment, I need only say that a large group of other writers, including myself, were giving the public the facts on this subject that have been borne out by the course of events.

Professor Rodell, in this article, makes this point:

"Right at the start, let's get it straight that the powers behind the Washington witch-hunt are not after Communists, except very incidentally. The powers behind the witch-hunt are the reactionary Republicans and the reactionary Southern Democrats in the Congress of the United States—plus their reactionary backers."

Today, in 1952, the evidence does not bear out Professor Rodell's charge. The evidence has been established in courts, in several parts of the United States, in decisions of the Supreme Court, in the investigations of congressional committees, in investigations in Germany and Japan, Canada and Great Britain, that the Communists have engaged in a conspiracy to undermine, overthrow by force, violence, intrigue, conspiracy, agitation, and corruption, our form of government. The existence of the Harold Ware Cell, important in this conspiracy, was established in the Alger Hiss trials and in the confession of Lee Pressman who admitted membership in it.

Professor Fred Rodell apparently dislikes the FBI. He states:

"And it is they—not the Department of Justice nor the President himself—who completely control, through their power of appropriation, that potentially sinister secret police force, the FBI, on whose investigations the bulk of the Witch-Hunt has been and will be based."

If a gangster or kidnaper or narcotics smuggler called the FBI a "potentially sinister secret police force," most of us would shrug it off on the assumption that the FBI has something on the guy. When we read such a statement, in a serious magazine, written by a law professor of Yale University, we assume that it is a product of scholarship. It surely makes some impression on the students who sit at his feet quaffing their search for learning.

This professor of law is trained in the rules of evidence. He knows that evidence is not opinion but fact. In this article written more than four years ago, but nine years after Whittaker Chambers had laid the facts of the Alger Hiss case before A. A. Berle, Jr., in the presence of Isaac Don Levine, Rodell gives his reasons for being shocked that seven State Department employes were fired as security risks:

"None of these men was any more of a Communist than J. Parnell Thomas; if they had been, the firm of Arnold, Fortas & Porter, who courageously handled their case, would never have touched it. . . ."

This obiter dicta implies that every lawyer is convinced of his client's innocence, which is actually antagonistic to our concept of the law. We believe that a man, even a guilty man, even one caught in the act, is entitled to his day in court, to be represented by a lawyer. When he has no money, the court generally appoints counsel for him. The fact that a lawyer represents a client does not establish the guilt or innocense of the client or the lawyer. It only means that he has a lawyer.

Maybe, a course in logic is needed in the Yale Law School.

HELPING THE CHRONICALLY ILL

As we look about us on the world today and see what greed or selfishness has done to us, we may be discouraged, yet, within the lifetime of most of us, there have come great advances in the health and happiness of all mankind, particularly the poor and needy. Some of these advances and benefits come immediately to mind — workmen's compensation, the tuberculosis societies, the American Heart Association, arthritis and hard of hearing societies, Public Affairs Association, hospital boards and many others, made up of men and women who, without pay or compensation in any form, give of their time and money for the sake of the health and happiness of others.

And now we have an organization that is giving time, thought and energy to help those who are living out their lives one day at a time, never enjoying ordinary good health: the chronically ill.

Those of us in average good health cannot even guess what it means to be always sick and, in most cases, without even average facilities for getting something out of life.

This challenge to the medical profession to become aware of the needs of the chronically ill and do something about it has resulted in the formation of the National Commission on Chronic Illness. The commission, under the direction of Dr. Dean W. Roberts will survey 13,000 persons in 4,000 families in Baltimore, Maryland, in a study of chronic disease and the needs of the chronically ill.

The Baltimore study of chronic disease among city dwellers is a companion study to one among the rural population in Hunterdon county, New Jersey. Results of medical studies of persons in the test groups found to be chronically ill will be to evaluate or learn their needs for medical care and related services—welfare, social service, hospitalization. The studies are expected to obtain significant information on the extent of chronic illness present in both city and country populations. The study of the needs of the chronically ill is expected to cover several years.

I mentioned in 1949 the foundation of the commission by the American Medical Association, The American Hospital Association, American Public Health Association and the American Public Welfare Association.

In addition to these four "founding" organizations, a $300,000 budget set by the commission for the coming four-year period has been met by twelve contributing organizations.

The lift in the morale of these individuals who are always sick, never well, can be equaled only by the lift in the morale of the members of the organizations behind this humanitarian effort.

Rheumatism and Arthritis

Sufferers with chronic rheumatism and arthritis will receive many helpful suggestions as to diet, heat, massage, etc., in Dr. Barton's booklet "Rheumatism and Arthritis," which may be obtained by sending 25 cents to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. "You're Kicking In to My Fund, Too, Ain'tcha, Chum?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By SEN. ESTES KEFAUVER

McMinnville, Tenn.—During the last few weeks, I have been resting from the hardest campaign of my life. I lost the campaign, but my faith in the basic greatness of the American people has been increased tremendously by this experience.

I don't want anyone to get the impression that I enjoyed losing. I don't like to lose, any better than the next fellow. It was especially hard to lose in this case, when we had been at it for so long and my friends had worked so hard for me.

When the Democratic convention was over, my wife Nancy and I came to McMinnville, Tenn., to get some rest in the country on a farm of a good friend of ours, Cowan Oldham. I didn't want to talk about the convention when friends came to see me, but the subject always seemed to come up, and to be frank I think I brought it up as often as anyone else. I couldn't sleep at night, although I tried to relax my mind and get good and tired swimming, fishing, and boating with the children.

I would keep going over the events of the convention in my mind, trying to see where I could have changed things by taking a different course. Should I have held out and tried to deadlock the convention? Did I do right in going to the convention hall to withdraw? Should I have advised my friends to vote differently on some of the issues?

"Stop worrying about it, Estes," Nancy told me at last. "You did your best and the people realize it. They believe in you regardless of the outcome."

My friends were very understanding. They wrote me thousands of encouraging letters from every section of the nation. Those who lived near enough came to see me. When I went to Memphis to make a radio and television talk, they gave us such a welcome and were so thoughtful of us that I began to feel for the first time that things weren't so bad after all.

Rewards of Campaign

I began to see some of the good things that came out of our campaign, even though we were beaten.

Campaigning across the nation is a tremendous experience. I should certainly be a better equipped senator as a result. Now I know first hand of the attitudes and ambitions of our people in every section of the nation. River development in the Far West, loss of industry in New England, special farm problems of many regions, bigotry, religious and racial intolerance are to me no longer problems to study merely from congressional hearings. I have seen them first hand.

Too often in Washington we tend to become cynical and disillusioned. When one has an opportunity of visiting as I have, the people in every section of the nation, that cynicism is washed away. This campaign has reassured me of the spiritual and economic sturdiness of our great people.

From a personal standpoint, the campaign was very rewarding. Nancy and I have made good friends in every section of the country, from New Hampshire to California and from Wisconsin to Florida.

The loyalty of these friends would be inspiring to any man. I think when I was sitting on the platform during that last ballot at the convention, waiting to make my announcement of withdrawal, I saw an exhibition of the personal greatness of men and women which has made America the nation it is.

These delegates knew my purpose in coming to the convention hall. As the roll call went on, it was obvious I had no chance. By all the rules of political conduct, it was to their interest to get on the winning side.

Some of them carried the mandate of the people of their state. Others, in states where they had no primary, had pledged support individually. With very few exceptions they stood up and counted their votes for a lost cause, because they were truly loyal.

Campaign Memories

As each delegation cast its vote, memories crowded in on me of long, hard campaigns, in the hot sun of California and Florida, through the cold snow of New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska. I remembered the courage of free people fighting against dictatorial and selfish political machines, and the enthusiasm of inspired young citizens who had never taken an active part in politics before. I remembered victory celebrations with New Englanders, with Middle Westerners and Far Westerners; and I remembered one or two post-mortems when we were beaten.

I do not think these good people who supported me lost what they were fighting for. They had a lot to do with the Democratic party presenting a sound and progressive platform. Also, I have a deep conviction that many beneficial reforms such as a federal presidential primary law will emerge.

They want our government to work steadfastly for peace with honor, for high integrity in government, for elimination of criminal influences, for clean politics with young people and women being brought more actively into the councils of the party.

I am glad to be able to say to those fine people all over the United States who stood shoulder to shoulder with me: We haven't lost—we have won a great deal. We won because we played the game hard and fair, we made no deals, and we didn't abandon the principles in which we believe. We won, because no man and no campaign group can say honestly that a cause is lost when it has resulted in such an outpouring of public interest in the basic things of which our American democracy is built.

I have visited with Governor Stevenson since the convention. He appreciates the fact that accomplishing these things is not only the desire but the mandate of the rank and file Democrat, and my good friend and neighbor John Sparkman and I have fought together in the Senate for these principles. While Governor Stevenson was not exactly my first choice for the Democratic nomination, I wish him good luck and trust he will carry the invigorated Democratic party on to a great victory.

Eisenhower Is Viewed as Having Received Some Bad Advice for His Campaign

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 21—If the Boise, Idaho, speech by General Eisenhower is a sample of the strategy he has been advised to use in his campaign, then the Republican presidential nominee has received some bad advice.

For here at the opening of the campaign, when the nation might have expected a clear-cut outline of the issues as they have been drawn between the Truman-Stevenson party on the one hand and the opposition on the other, the only thing that is offered is an appeal to the country not to be misled by either the "left" or the "right" but to adopt a course which the general's speech calls "the middle way."

As philosophical doctrine in the field of policital science, it may have some merit, but, as a piece of campaign strategy, it is a species of neutrality that spells colorlessness, compromise and straddle.

For while, in the battle over issues of the day, extremists of the "left" and "right" are to be deplored, so are the extremists of the "middle way" often the unwitting sponsors of confusion and delay.

When President Truman seized the steel mills under the "inherent powers" claim, it was an extreme step. It was 100 per cent wrong because it violated the constitution, and the people who opposed the step proved it was wrong. Either there is a law to sanction such a policy, or there isn't. There was no "middle way" in the seizure issue.

When the Truman administration decided to yield to its fears of an "enlarged war" in Korea and declined to use maximum power, the "middle way" meant procrastination and delay, and only after a year were the American air forces given permission to bomb vital bases in North Korea, though, in the interim period of compromise and temporizing, the enemy was able to achieve a big buildup of its planes and troops. That was the "middle way."

The issues before the American people which have a "left" and "right" connotation aren't going to be settled by a third course—A "middle way" which rejects them both. Often there is a good deal of substance in the position of those on the "right" or the "left," respectively, and to reject them both and try a third way can mean no solution at all. More often, a flat decision against the "right" is as desirable as on other occasions is a flat decision against the "left."

It has long been the habit of politicians to avoid commitments of positive nature and to try to balance conflicting groups on the theory that this is the way to get votes from both sides. It is often called "carrying water on both shoulders."

This kind of strategy sometimes succeeds in politics when the electorate is unable to make up its mind between opposing viewpoints, especially when the issues aren't clear. But corruption in Washington, for instance, is clear. The public has made up its mind that such misbehavior by officialdom is reprehensible. There is no "middle way" on that issue.

The Eisenhower speech seems to be the product of amateur advisers who haven't yet come to grips with the realities of the campaign or with the importance of being positive. Vague generalities will never win a campaign against a party entrenched in power for 20 years.

This is a campaign where the only chance the opposition has to get votes is to call a spade a spade and to recognize frankly that before talking about alternatives—whether they are in the "middle center" or "left of center" or "right of center"—it is essential that the American people be made aware of just what the dangers of the "left" have been under the New Deal and Fair Deal, and what they will be if the present administration is vindicated at the polls in November. The important point now is to tell the people frankly what damage has been done by the "left," and, if the people don't care to change this, then there is not much use telling them that there is a "middle way" or that, in swinging toward the middle, the pendulum won't be allowed to go all the way to the extreme "right." The risk is that the people, if they remain unaware of what the "left" has really done, may come to the conclusion that the "left" isn't so bad, after all.

Discussion of ideological abstractions, moreover, is not good enough for a campaign that will be won or lost by sledge-hammer blows. While President Truman's speeches in 1948 were by no means informative as to alternatives he would offer, they did have the political value of striking hard at the opposition, which the Eisenhower strategy doesn't seem to be ready to do. The Eisenhower speech still seems to be in the preconvention mood of hostility to the "right" wing of the party.

Maybe the general's strategists think a slow start at low pressure is a good way to achieve momentum later on. But it does look as if the brain trust in faraway Denver is out of touch with a rapidly developing trend away from Eisenhower on the part of former Taft supporters and a definite trend toward Stevenson on the part of the "left wing" and its allies. If that doesn't soon suggest a different strategy, then the Eisenhower strategists may never come to understand the basic force of the 1952 presidential campaign.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Some idolators of the Hyde Park Haunt wince audibly at occasional irreverent alusions to his widow as La Boca and La Boca Grande. La Boca is Spanish for "the mouth" and La Boca Grande means "the big mouth."

La Boca, or La Boca Grande, is a professional politician of aggressive and, I must insist upon saying, impudent and audacious bearing. When women entered our politics, the advocates of suffrage insisted that they would ask for no special consideration. It had always been our habit to hang nicknames on prominent persons in politics, crime and sport as examples of which I cite you Bathhouse John Coughlin, also known as The Bath; Hinky-Dink Kenna; Old Hickory; Red Mike Hylan; Muley Doughton; Cotton Ed Smith; Cyclone Davis and Huey Long, the Kingfish. In the underworld we have had Two-Gun Crowley; Mike De Pike Heitler; Monkey Charlie Genker; Cokey Flo; Mad Dog Coll; Gyp the Blood and Marchine-Gun Kelly.

The late Bill Klem, the National League umpire, would throw any man out of a ballgame whom he caught in the act of calling him Catfish. The reason why the athletes sometimes called Bill Catfish was that someone, probably from the region of the muddy midwestern rivers, had observed that his mouth was wide, mirthless and firmly set. Another umpire, this one an American Leaguer named Guthrie, spent a few wretched years in constant imbroglio. He had trouble remembering what constituted "force" in a force-out. The athletes called him Dogface. To be sure, he did have a strong, prognathous chin not unlike an English bulldog's, but I used to cherish a theory that they were referring to the fact that he had been a Doughboy, or Dogface, in France. He was a very nice fellow.

John McGraw resented the name of Muggsy and made several spectacular protests, some of them coming to bloodshed, but he never lived it down. Cleveland had a pitcher named Water Mails who was called Duster because it was suspected that he threw at the batter's cap button now and again to dust him back from the plate. Kid Gleason was "Kid" into his sere and yellow and Jimmy Dykes, who was playing third for Connie Mack in the Kid's last days, used to call him Abner or Ab, after Abner Doubleday, who was implicated in the early formulation of baseball. There was an outfielder on the same club named Miller who was called Booker T., or Uncle Tom Miller, because his complexion was swarthy. Gene Fowler is called Booker for the same reason.

Fainting Phil Scott; Fred Fulton, the plastered plasterer; Kewpie Ertle and a handsome heavyweight with a crockey chin named the Diving Adonis all come readily to mind. Helen Wills was called poker face and Molla Mallory, a Norwegian with features faintly suggesting the Eskimo, sometimes was the reindeer milkmaid in print.

I do not admire Eleanor Roosevelt but believe she has been the most deleterious character in American life, with the exception of her husband, since the founding of the republic. It is not possible to determine the extent of her guilt apart from his because so much of their destructive work was done en famille. For some time she insisted that she was not a politican but, after a while, that became so silly that she ceased to protest. I doubt that she ever admitted that she was a politician but it makes no difference whether she admits it or not. She was and she is and we do know, too, that she exerted herself in the interest of Hans Eisler, Mrs. Earl Browder, Joe Lash, Mervyn Rathborne, and Alger Hiss and yet has the effrontery to warn us against Communist propaganda as though she had been on guard against communism, Communists and fellow-travelers all her life. She should never have been given any official position and she should be thrown out now.

In view of her activities, including also her exploitation of her husband's office for personal enrichment and her connivance at similar activities by her children, this woman deserves not even the minimum respect that one freely and instinctively accords a woman, presuming her to be a lady. I need not go into any hair-splitting discussions of the qualifications of a lady. The subject is twin to the problem of the angels dancing on the point of a pin, but that deference is a handicap to the opponents of a female machine politician. My contention is that La Boca has been a politician in the coarsest and least respectable sense of that term and is no less eligible for the same treatment that crude politicians receive than any male on the same ethical plane. Some of us wage controversy with delicate sarcasm. Some use a meat-axe. One of the direc-

Should Match Walls

When redecorating a room, paint pipes and radiators to match the walls and thus render them inconspicuous. The lighter the tints used, the more heat is given off, experts say. Flat paint is the best type of coating to use.

Report Davioni Talks Way Out of Jail in Jelke Case

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—The attorney for Raymond Russell Davioni, reportedly "singing" about the big-money call-girl racket, says his client's cooperation with authorities should get him out of jail.

Davioni, 34-year-old unemployed press agent, is charged—along with young margarine heir Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke—with compulsory prostitution, living off the proceeds of prostitution, and conspiracy.

Jelke and Davioni were arrested last week along with models, TV actresses and others who allegedly worked as call girls for as much as $500 a night.

The 22-year-old Jelke, also charged with illegal possession of two guns, was freed almost immediately in $50,000 bail.

Davioni has been in the city prison for the past six days in lieu of $45,000 bail.

After Davioni started to "tell all" yesterday, his lawyer, Murray Cutler, hinted that he hopes to win his liberty—in the custody of the attorney.

Will Ask Parole

Cutler said his client would testify today before the grand jury, and added, "I am going to ask that Davioni be paroled."

Davioni was closeted in the district attorney's office until late last night. Afterward, a spokesman for the prosecutor said elimination of Davioni's high bail would depend largely on what he told the grand jury.

The spokesman made it clear that Davioni was "cooperating."

The jury is weighing charges against Davioni, Jelke, and bit actor Richard Short, accused of sharing the earnings of a call girl in return for his affections.

Scheduled to be heard today in Women's Court was the case of red-haired Erica Steel, a TV actress charged with being a "Madam" in a house of prostitution.

Nice Girl, She Says

Miss Steel's attorney said she would plead innocent to the charge. And Miss Steel told newsmen, "I am a nice girl."

In another phase of the vice crackdown, dipping further into the cafe society crowd, was the testimony yesterday by blonde, buxom Nancy Hawkins, 23 involving Samuel Chapman, ex-husband and still business partner of gown designer Ceil Chapman.

Miss Hawkins said the 56-year-old Chapman gave her a lewdly designed silk handkerchief.

Chapman is charged with possession of pornographic pictures and other items, and with procuring prostitutes—for his friends and without profit to himself.

Linked to $500 Date

Chapman allegedly once got Miss Hawkins a $500 date.

The pornographic picture charge against Chapman was adjourned until Sept 12. The procuring charge is scheduled to be heard next Tuesday in mid-Manhattan court.

Also yesterday Jelke, at the office of his attorney, repeated his contention that the charges against him were "ridiculously" and added:

"* * * if introducing people for the purpose of a normal evening's entertainment makes the introducer responsible for the moral conduct of his guests, there would be no jail large enough to accommodate all the miscreants."

Research Is Made

Ballston Spa, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—The extraordinary grand jury investigating crime and possible political corruption in Saratoga county is doing considerable research into the history of the Arrowhead Inn, Spa night club linked to gambler Frank Costello's operations. The jurors questioned six witnesses yesterday. Prosecutors said all formerly were asociated with the Inn, which now is closed. The Arrowhead was tied to the big-time gambling activities of Costello's syndicate through testimony last year before the U. S. Senate's Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee. The grand jury was to question more witnesses today in the inquiry ordered 16 months ago by Gov. Dewey.

Rescue Off for Time

Muotathal, Switzerland, Aug. 21 (AP)—Rescue workers today temporarily called off efforts to save four men trapped in "Hell's Hole," a maze of underground caverns and passageways under the Alps here. The experts said there was no hope of success until the water which had trapped the four underground explorers receded further. The rescue workers were still convinced that the four explorers, including Lothar Kaiser, an 18-year-old student, had found a safe place in one of the higher caverns. The quartet went into the caverns last Friday to make measurements.

As Pegler Sees It

tors of the late friends of democracy advised a meeting of this society that this was the only way to deal with Pegler. My own method seems to me to be on the suave and haughty side but I am an old-time sport writer and I may be less artful than I think.

Why not La Boca, though, or La Boca Grande? We speak of an actress as the body; of a singer as the voice; and her husband, a sissy with his insipid, button-shoe wit, fancied himself as a great humorist when he invented such terms as Henry the Morgue for Morgenthau; Benny the Cone for Benjamin Cohen, and Tommy the Cory for Corcoran. La Boca Grande is a public character, isn't she?

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD S. THIBAUT, Jr.

Third Dardenne Concert Saturday

Woodstock, Aug. 21—The third in the series of Concerts Dardenne will be given Saturday at the Wittenberg home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Dardenne, beginning at 4 p. m. Featured in the concert will be the Woodstock Community Glee Club, under the direction of Zelinda V. Dardenne, with 25 members of the chorus.

The popular Community Glee Club was organized in 1951 by Mrs. Dardenne, and although the group is approximately the same size as it was in the beginning, some of the singers are new. Mrs. Dardenne, however, keeps the chorus to a certain size in order to retain the balance of the voices.

Mrs. Dardenne, who is the music director for a large New York high school, has spent the last two summers giving individual and group instruction, amounting to many hours of time devoted to achieve the perfection of the group's performance.

Find New Interest

The formation of the chorus came about because the Dardenne's believed the people wanted it. Many who have joined the chorus have found in singing an exciting new interest, some of whom have never studied music before. One of their greatest pleasures occurs frequently when the Dardennes happen to pass the homes of neighbor members of the chorus and hear them practicing.

Saturday afternoon's program will open with Victor Dardenne, violinist, and Mrs. Clara Chichester, pianist, performing the Richard Strauss Sonata, D flat major, one of the first compositions, according to Dardenne, in which the composer revealed his great personality.

The chorus will sing the Bach-Gounod Ave Maria; Mendelssohn's I Would That My Love; Gilbert and Sullivan's chorus from the Pirates of Penzance, When the Foeman Bears His Steel; and Schubert's The Omnipotence.

The program will conclude with the Trio in D Minor by Mendelssohn, played by Dardenne, Cynthia Eddy, cellist, and Mrs. Chichester.

Agapaes Plan Fair

Woodstock, August 21—The annual fair and dinner given by the Agapae Rebekah Lodge, will take place at the Bearsville Lodge Hall, Thursday, Aug. 28. The fair, with food, flower and fancy table will begin at 2 p. m. and a roast beef dinner will be served beginning at 5:30 p. m.

Rummage, Food Sale

Woodstock, Aug. 21—The Dutch Reformed Church will hold a rummage sale, Tuesday, Aug. 26, beginning at 10 a. m. There also will be a food table.

Watercolor Exhibit Draws Much Interest

Woodstock, Aug. 21—An exhibition of watercolors by John Pike, artist and illustrator, is currently on view in the lobby of the Woodstock Playhouse, arranged by Jerry Jerominek. The subjects of Pike's vivid, atmospheric paintings range from local snow-clad mountain scenes to the waters of the British West Indies. One of the most striking of the tropical scenes depicts the turbulent wind clouds of an approaching storm while the small figures on the beach scurry for cover.

The exhibition, probably the most arresting of this summer's series at the Playhouse, aroused much favorable comment among theatre-goers Tuesday night.

Post to Meet

Woodstock, Aug. 21—The Woodstock American Legion Post 1026, will meet Thursday, August 28, at 8 p. m., at the Legion Hall.

Woodstock, Aug. 21—Following a picnic supper on the grounds of the Art Students League for members of the summer school classes, a square dance was enjoyed by the students Wednesday night. Music for the dance was provided by Bill Harcourt and his orchestra. Decorations for the dance were made by Michele Kaye of New York, a student at the League. Instructions for the square dances were given by Emily Hartmann.

Funds Are Needed For Program at Recreation Field

Woodstock, Aug. 21—The Woodstock Recreation Committee is again appealing for funds to carry on the work at the recreation field. It is endeavoring to raise an amount which will match the grant of the New York State Youth Commission under whose jurisdiction the committee operates.

The recreation program for the youth of this village is operating an expanded program for this year. The wading and swimming pool donated by Anthony de Lisio is a tremendous success, according to William West, chairman of the committee. It does of necessity, however, entail additional expenses. There is a trained life guard on duty at the time when the pool is open. The water is continually circulated and chlorinated which is a vital health safeguard but also another new expense.

This summer the Public Health Nursing Committee sponsored at their own expense a supervised program for young girls of the village. This has supplemented the recreation committee's program and has filled a need which was heretofore impossible with the recreation committee's limited budget.

It has been stated by an official of the Youth Commission that the Woodstock Recreation Field and program is unsurpassed by any community of its size in the state of New York.

Donations, however large or small, will be greatly appreciated. They are urgently needed to continue and enlarge this program which will help produce finer future citizens without regard to race, color or creed.

Checks may be made payable to the Woodstock Recreation Committee.

Picnic on Friday

Woodstock, Aug. 21—The Historical Society of Woodstock will hold its annual picnic at the Saw Mill in Shady on Friday, Aug. 22, at 5 p. m., through the kindness of Craig Vosburgh. Members have been requested to bring their own supper. There will be a guest speaker.

Clerk Position Open At Local Post Office

Woodstock, Aug. 21 — It has been announced by the Second United Civil Service regional director that at the present time there is an open-continuous examination for substitute clerk for the Woodstock Post Office. The annauncement states that all appointments will be indefinite unless there is a change in the pertinent regulations. Executive Order 10376, which became effective Aug. 17, 1952, authorizes a permanent appointment in the postal field service. Accordingly a general amendment has been issued which alters the Nature of Appointments paragraph as follows:

"Nature of Appointments. Registers established as a result of this examination will be used for both permanent and non-permanent appointments."

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announces that the closing date for receipt of applications for the position of substitute clerk, under the above announcements, will be Sept. 2, 1952.

Dance at Zena

Woodstock, Aug. 21—The Zena Country Club will hold a dance Saturday, Aug. 23, beginning at 9 p. m. Music for the occasion will be provided by Harold Holumzer.

To Hold Exhibition

Woodstock, Aug. 21—An exhibition of the work of the pupils of the art classes of Frances Stein will open at her studio on the Old Wagon road, Saturday, Aug. 30. at 2 p. m.

Third Dardenne Concert Saturday

Woodstock, Aug. 21—The third in the series of Concerts Dardenne will be given Saturday at the Wittenberg home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Dardenne, beginning at 4 p. m. Featured in the concert will be the Woodstock Community Glee Club, under the direction of Zelinda V. Dardenne, with 25 members of the chorus.

The popular Community Glee Club was organized in 1951 by Mrs. Dardenne, and although the group is approximately the same size as it was in the beginning, some of the singers are new. Mrs. Dardenne, however, keeps the chorus to a certain size in order to retain the balance of the voices.

Mrs. Dardenne, who is the music director for a large New York high school, has spent the last two summers giving individual and group instruction, amounting to many hours of time devoted to achieve the perfection of the group's performance.

Find New Interest

The formation of the chorus came about because the Dardenne's believed the people wanted it. Many who have joined the chorus have found in singing an exciting new interest, some of whom have never studied music before. One of their greatest pleasures occurs frequently when the Dardennes happen to pass the homes of neighbor members of the chorus and hear them practicing.

Saturday afternoon's program will open with Victor Dardenne, violinist, and Mrs. Clara Chichester, pianist, performing the Richard Strauss Sonata, D flat major, one of the first compositions, according to Dardenne, in which the composer revealed his great personality.

The chorus will sing the Bach-Gounod Ave Maria; Mendelssohn's I Would That My Love; Gilbert and Sullivan's chorus from the Pirates of Penzance, When the Foeman Bears His Steel; and Schubert's The Omnipotence.

The program will conclude with the Trio in D Minor by Mendelssohn, played by Dardenne, Cynthia Eddy, cellist, and Mrs. Chichester.

The following members of the Woodstock Community Glee Club will participate: Mrs. Gerta Ahrens, Miss Nanette Alekian, Mrs. George Behrens, Mrs. Helen Burdett, Mrs. Norma Champanier, Mrs. Eugene Dickhuth, Miss Marguerite Graham, Miss Irene Grimes, Miss Mercy Ann Hillman, Mrs. Marie Klein, Miss Peggy McGuire, Mrs. Vincent Milora, Mrs. Agnete Mundt, Mrs. Cecilia Orlando, Miss Cordelia Orlando, Mrs. Margaret Schropshire, Mrs. Margie Tompkins, David Fairbanks, Nick Insardi, Vincent Milora, Morgan Morrison, Bernie Mufson, Sidney Rifkin, William Ronson and Samuel Schulman.

Car Insurance Rates Jump; Careful Drivers May Save

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Starting Monday, some 3½ million motorists in New York state will pay higher rates for automobile liability insurance. The increases will range from a negligible fraction to as high as 50 per cent.

Coupled with the new rates will be a new rating plan designed to reduce the cost of insurance to careful drivers, the New York State Insurance Department announced.

While the rates go up on Monday, the plan for rewarding careful drivers will not take effect until November 1. It will work out in such a way that the careful driver will pay about 10 per cent less for his auto liability insurance than the motorist who has been in an accident causing bodily injury or in two accidents causing property damage in the preceding 18 months. The accident free driver will pay 20 per cent less than the autoist who has been involved in more than two crashes during the 18-month period.

Increases Vary

The rate increases vary from 1.6 per cent in Glens Falls to 50.2 per cent for the suburbs of Rochester. In New York, car owners in Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn will pay about 12.9 per cent more.

The new rates apply to insurance policies which afford protection up to $10,000 for bodily injury to one person, up to $20,000 for bodily injury to two or more persons in one accident, and up to $5,000 property damage. They are rock bottom rates, which apply only to private passenger cars which are not used for business and are not driven by anyone under 25 years of age.

In Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn this type of insurance will cost $144.40 a year. The old rate was $127.90.

Drivers in the city portion of Queens in New York will pay $113.20 as against $93 previously—a jump of 21.7 per cent. In suburban Queens the rates go up from $71.90 to $86.40 and in Richmond from $63.15 to $67.20.

Result of High Claims

The rate increases resulted from higher costs of settling accident claims—a situation which caused stock companies to experience an underwriting loss of 16 million dollars in the state last year, it was pointed out. They are part of a nationwide pattern.

The one exception is suburban Syracuse, where the rates go down two-tenths of a percentage point—from $57.70 to $57.60.

New Kingston Rates

The new rate as announced for Kingston, Highland and Newburgh will be $70.20, an increase of $17.40 over the old rate of $52.80, a hike of 33 per cent.

These rates, for the standard $10,000-$20,000 bodily injury liability coverage and $5,000 property damage insurance, apply to cars not used in business and with drivers 25 years old or more.

In the rural areas of Ulster county the new rate will be $57.60 for the Class 1, an increase of $11.25 over the old rate of $46.35, or an increase of 24.3 per cent.

Stratton Is Improving

The condition of Officer Kenneth Stratton, who was injured in a car-truck collision near Great Barrington, Mass., last Saturday, was reported as "good" at the Benedictine Hospital today. Police headquarters was notified last night, however, that the patrolman was not to have visitors at present. Wilfred Beaudette, 50, of Southbury, Conn., was fatally injured in the mishap.

Richest tungsten field on the North American continent is in North Carolina.

Local Death Record

Merritt Oakley

Funeral services for Merritt Oakley of 56 Franklin street, who died August 19, were held at the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home this morning with the Rev. Ralph M. Houston, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Gerard Winter

The funeral of Gerard Winter, infant son of Vincent A., and Mabel Winter of 129 Wrentham street, who died suddenly Tuesday, was held Wednesday at a private service from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue. Burial took place in St. Peter's Cemetery.

George Wallace Codwise

Funeral services for George Wallace Codwise, who died at his residence, 10 Pearl street, August 17, were held at the First Dutch Church Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor, officiating. Tuesday evening many friends, representatives of the Red Cross, Boy Scouts and Kiwanis Club visited the funeral parlors of A. Carr and Son to pay their last respects. Burial was in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Edward Koeppen

Funeral services for Edward Koeppen of 118 Hooker street were held Wednesday afternoon from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., with the Rev. Dr. Frank L. Gollnick officiating. The services were largely attended by relatives and friends. Floral tributes were many and beautiful. Bearers were Harry Brandt, Herman Brandt, Jr., Raymond Otto, Charles Koeppen, Jr., William Brandt, Robert Brandt and Carl Brandt, all relatives. Burial was in Montrepose Cemetery.

Charles A. Moorefield

Charles Andrew Moorefield, who was a victim of a hit-run accident on Route 52 on August 14, according to police reports, is survived by his wife, Stella Tobias Moorefield; and his mother, Mrs. Luther Lairdberry, Germanton, N. C. The body has been shipped by the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home in Kerhonkson to the Moody Funeral Home, Mt. Airy, N. C., for burial. Efforts to contact relatives of Mr. Moorefield were made possible by Sgt. James Mahoney, of the Ellenville state police, the Veteran's Administration offices in Kingston and Ellenville and the New York Telephone Company office in Monticello.

Sarah Jane Kimmens

Sarah Jane Kimmens, of Stone Ridge, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Telford Read in Hurley. Beside her daughter, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Millie Smith, High Falls; a brother, Crispell Countryman, Front Royal, Va., a grandson, Lt. Robert G. Charles Brieant, vicar of St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Stone Ridge, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Stone Ridge. Members of the family will act as bearers.

Ulysses G. Taylor

Ulysses G. Taylor of 13 West Union street died early today following a lengthy illness. He is survived by his wife, Mary Corcoran Taylor; a step-daughter, June Marabell; and six sisters, Mrs. George Simmons, Mrs. Myrtle Saulpaugh and Mrs. Charles Van De Bogart, Kingston; Mrs. Abram Berryann, Ellenville, Mrs. Alfred Whispell, Big Indian; and Mrs. Philip Lucklow, Hudson. Mr. Taylor was born in Woodstock and had lived in Kingston more than 35 years where he was highly regarded. He was employed by B. Millens & Sons for more than 20 years. Mr. Taylor was a veteran of World War 2, serving in the U. S. Army more than 18 months. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Jenson & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street. Burial will take place in Woodstock Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel at any time.

Lawyers Complain

Tokyo, Aug. 21 (AP)—Japanese lawyers complained to Gen. Mark Clark today that United States and United Nations servicemen in Japan have repeatedly committed vicious crimes. The Federation of Bar Associations sent a resolution to the UN commander asking him to give special attention to enforcing "military rules and discipline" in Japan. A UN spokesman said tonight he had no knowledge of the letter and declined comment.

Renewals Are Made

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—A steady stream of license renewal applications is flowing into the State Motor Vehicle Bureau from the more than three million motorists in New York whose driving licenses expire Sept. 30. Noting that this was the largest license-renewal period in state history, the bureau yesterday urged all drivers affected to apply early. The licenses are issued for three-year periods.

Aly Stays on Coast

Hollywood, Aug. 21 (AP)—Prince Aly Khan is staying on for another day in Hollywood. He was scheduled to leave by air last night for Louisville, Ky., to buy and sell horses, but delayed his departure 24 hours. No reason was disclosed. Aly has been seeing his estranged wife, actress Rita Hayworth, frequently during his visit here, but there has been no word to support the possibility of a reconciliation.

Boy Drowns, Father Dies

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—A nine-year-old boy drowned in Brooklyn's Gowanus Canal yesterday, and his father died of a heart attack rushing to the rescue. The victims were John J. Cassidy, 50, and his son, Robert. The youngster had been playing along the canal bank when he fell in. Told of the accident, the father collapsed while running to the scene.

Promises Success

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Economist Beardsley Ruml, who laughingly admits that he once was an enrolled Republican, took over today the chairmanship of the finance committee of the National Democratic Committee. He promised a fund-raising campaign that would be "cheerful, efficient, convenient and successful."

They're Always Right

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Truman, asked today about Swedish newspaper assertions that Secret Service men guarding his daughter, Margaret, roughed up photographers, said Secret Service men are always right. He told his news conference he had read reports of the inquiry as they came to him. But, otherwise, the President dismissed the now-celebrated Swedish incident.

Stevenson Works On His Speeches

Minocqua, Wis., Aug. 21 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson blocked out the rough drafts today of the ten or twelve speeches he will make on a hard-driving tour next month to win the western vote in the November election.

This campaign may open Sept. 5 in Denver, Colo., the headquarters of his Republican opponent, GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, before moving westward to the Pacific northwest and California.

Stevenson planned to sleep late and mix a little fishing, boating and just plain loafing with his speech writing. He also agreed to another news conference at 11 a. m. (EST).

Yesterday, the Democratic presidential nominee told reporters he feels "very comfortable" about his chances for beating Eisenhower. But he said the greatest obstacle in his path is the Republican argument that it's "time for a change" in administration.

Stevenson and his lieutenants have clearly indicated that in combatting this argument they will hammer on the counter-argument that Stevenson's election would be a change in faces and in approach policies.

He said yesterday he would deal with corruption "ruthlessly" if elected. "I always have and I always will," he added.

And he went on to say that the best way to deal with what he has called "a mess in Washington" would be to name qualified and incorruptible men to government jobs—thus eliminating the wrongdoing before and not after it happens.

Asked if it would be a desirable thing to have Eisenhower directing America's foreign policy, Stevenson replied: "I don't know that I shall address myself to his undesirability for anything. I don't think I will."

Diesel Taxi Operates

London, Aug. 21 (AP)—Britain's first Diesel-powered taxi began cruising the streets of London today. Owner John Birch, who had the Diesel engine installed in a standard taxi chassis, told reporters he hopes to confound experts who claim Diesel power is not an economic proposition in small cars.

46,000 Flee to West

Bonn, Germany, Aug. 21 (AP)—Approximately 46,000 people have fled from Communist-ruled East Germany to crowded West Berlin and West Germany in the last two months, Federal Refugee Minister Hans Lukaschek reported today. He said these included about 6,000 youths, many of whom fled to escape conscription for the East German army.

Another big peace meeting, centered on Asia, is scheduled in September for Communist China.

Car Fire Checked

Firemen were called at about 12:30 p. m., today to check a slight fire in a sedan owned by Rudolph Meyer, of Phoenicia, at Broadway and East Strand. The blaze, caused by ignited oil, was confined to the motor.

Approval Given On Hutton as New Fireman Mechanic

The Board of Fire Commissioners last night approved the appointment of Fireman James M. Hutton to the position of fireman equipment mechanic.

Hutton, who will fill the vacancy left by the retirement last year of Charles Brown, has been temporarily acting as the department's mechanic. He scored a high mark of 92.9 on the recent civil service examination.

The others who took the examination were Foreman Howard Myer, who scored 89.9 and Fireman Robert L. Maines, who scored 81.1.

16 Take Exam

The board met in special session to approve Hutton's appointment.

Sixteen members of the department took the examination at the high school Saturday night to fill the captaincy left vacant by the retirement earlier this summer of E. Wright Maines, who had served in the department 44 years. The Municipal Civil Service Commission expects it will be some time yet before it will obtain the results of the examination from Albany.

A man who specializes in the theory and practice of field crop production and soil management is called an agronomist.

Car Insurance Rates Jump; Careful Drivers May Save

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Starting Monday, some 3½ million motorists in New York state will pay higher rates for automobile liability insurance. The increases will range from a negligible fraction to as high as 50 per cent.

Coupled with the new rates will be a new rating plan designed to reduce the cost of insurance to careful drivers, the New York State Insurance Department announced.

While the rates go up on Monday, the plan for rewarding careful drivers will not take effect until November 1. It will work out in such a way that the careful driver will pay about 10 per cent less for his auto liability insurance than the motorist who has been in an accident causing bodily injury or in two accidents causing property damage in the preceding 18 months. The accident free driver will pay 20 per cent less than the autoist who has been involved in more than two crashes during the 18-month period.

Increases Vary

The rate increases vary from 1.6 per cent in Glens Falls to 50.2 per cent for the suburbs of Rochester. In New York, car owners in Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn will pay about 12.9 per cent more.

The new rates apply to insurance policies which afford protection up to $10,000 for bodily injury to one person, up to $20,000 for bodily injury to two or more persons in one accident, and up to $5,000 property damage. They are rock bottom rates, which apply only to private passenger cars which are not used for business and are not driven by anyone under 25 years of age.

In Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn this type of insurance will cost $144.40 a year. The old rate was $127.90.

Drivers in the city portion of Queens in New York will pay $113.20 as against $93 previously—a jump of 21.7 per cent. In suburban Queens the rates go up from $71.90 to $86.40 and in Richmond from $63.15 to $67.20.

Result of High Claims

The rate increases resulted from higher costs of settling accident claims—a situation which caused stock companies to experience an underwriting loss of 16 million dollars in the state last year, it was pointed out. They are part of a nationwide pattern.

The one exception is suburban Syracuse, where the rates go down two-tenths of a percentage point—from $57.70 to $57.60.

New Kingston Rates

The new rate as announced for Kingston, Highland and Newburgh will be $70.20, an increase of $17.40 over the old rate of $52.80, a hike of 33 per cent.

These rates, for the standard $10,000-$20,000 bodily injury liability coverage and $5,000 property damage insurance, apply to cars not used in business and with drivers 25 years old or more.

In the rural areas of Ulster county the new rate will be $57.60 for the Class 1, an increase of $11.25 over the old rate of $46.35, or an increase of 24.3 per cent.

Stratton Is Improving

The condition of Officer Kenneth Stratton, who was injured in a car-truck collision near Great Barrington, Mass., last Saturday, was reported as "good" at the Benedictine Hospital today. Police headquarters was notified last night, however, that the patrolman was not to have visitors at present. Wilfred Beaudette, 50, of Southbury, Conn., was fatally injured in the mishap.

Richest tungsten field on the North American continent is in North Carolina.

Margaret's Guard

cate there is not one word of truth in any of the stories alleged to have been published in the Swedish newspapers."

Short said he had not seen the Swedish newspapers, only wire service reports, and the investigation was continuing. The State Department, Short said, was expecting reports from the Swedish police.

The Swedish Foreign Office, meanwhile, had begun its own investigation. Stockholm dispatches said it wanted to know by what right Miss Truman's bodyguard was armed in Sweden, where even the police are traditionally unarmed.

The U. S. Secret Service, also traditionally, arms its agents whenever they are on duty—whether bodyguarding or trailing counterfeiters.

At the White House, after conferring with State and Treasury Department officials (the Secret Service is a branch of treasury) Short gave this version of the reported incident at the Stockholm Town Hall:

"One photographer approached one of the agents at city hall and asked if Miss Truman would permit her picture to be taken. She was looking at some exhibitions, and the agent said she preferred not to be photographed at the time.

"The photographer asked if any other photographers were present inside the building and was told there were not.

Called Calm Discussion

"That ended the incident. It was just a very calm discussion."

The Swedish foreign office backed up short. It said in a statement that the agent who reportedly stopped a photographer had simply said: "No pictures, please."

U. S. Ambassador Walton Butterworth said virtually the same thing.

The ambassador said the Swedish press, before Miss Truman's arrival, carried reports of photographer-Secret Service friction elsewhere on her trip. He suggested Swedish cameramen might have been stirred up against the bodyguard trio even before they got to Sweden.

State Department Press Officer Michael McDermott told newsmen that Butterworth's report completed the State Department investigation. McDermott said he was confident Swedish-American relations would not suffer as a result of the reported incident.

Names, Pay Secret

The Secret Service, when queried, pretty much lived up to its name. It kept secret the names of the three agents, their salaries and their expenses while traveling with Miss Truman. Generally, Secret Service agents' pay ranges from $4,200 to $6,000 annually, their expense allowance abroad from $9 to $14 a day.

There was silence, too, at the United States Lines. It operates the S.S. United States, on which Miss Truman, the Secret Service trio and Mrs. John Horton—daughter of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, boss of the Secret Service—sailed for Europe.

The steamship company would not say how much the agents' accommodations cost.

There was some comment from Republicans in Congress.

Asks Why the Guards

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa expressed curiosity as to "why Miss Truman should be traveling with bodyguards at government expense on a private trip abroad."

Short emphasized to reporters that the Secret Service is required by law to guard members of the President's immediate family as well as the President himself.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Budget-minded food shoppers noted higher price tags for butter, eggs and pork chops in many parts of the nation this week. But they found good buys in seafood and fresh produce.

Egg prices continued their upward climb, with one big nationwide chain tacking on increases which ranged up to four cents a dozen for the large top-grade variety in some cities. Thrift-minded housewives again turned to pullet eggs which still offer the best value on a pounds-per-dollar basis. Wholesale egg prices followed an irregular course. The price hikes at retail reflect increases put into effect by wholesalers a week or so ago.

Butter was up a penny or two a pound in many retail markets and traders noted a further stiffening of wholesale prices this week. Some expressed doubt whether the latest wholesale price increases would be passed on immediately to the retail consumer.

Butter production during the past two weeks has been running about 11 per cent below the year-ago rate, because a good deal of milk which would normally go into butter is being diverted to ice cream and fluid channels.

There's good and bad news for pork eaters this week. Prices of center cut pork chops are up as much as 12 cents a pound in some cities—down a penny or two in others.

Weekend specials in seafood are planned in many parts of the country. Whiting, lobster, salmon, shrimp, scallops and frozen swordfish are among the varieties described by market sources as attractively priced.

Fricassee fowl, frying chickens and roast duck are also being promoted as among the week's best buys, along with cheddar cheese, picnic hams, ground beef, smoked pork butts and spare-ribs.

Steaks Unchanged

Prices of sirloin steaks and rib roasts of beef are generally unchanged from last week or a shade higher.

On the produce counter, snap beans, beets, cabbage, topped carrots, sweet corn, cucumbers and egg plant are listed by Department of Agriculture market specialists as plentiful and cheap, along with mushrooms, pears, peppers, yellow squash, tomatoes, peaches and potatoes.

Higher in price this week are lettuce, blueberries and spinach.

Much of the fruit in eastern markets shows the effects of drenching rains which hit orchards in the New York-Pennsylvania-New Jersey area recently following a prolonged dry spell. Agriculture Department spokesmen say some of the fruits and berries are waterlogged and a shade poorer in appearance and quality than they would otherwise be.

About Lower Meat Prices

There's been a good deal of discussion in trade quarters this week about the likelihood of lower meat prices, possibly in time for this year's Thanksgiving and Christmas feasts.

Meat prices, the New York Journal of Commerce says, "may be depressed materially this fall as the big movement of cattle to market gets under way. Declines in meat prices, once begun, may continue for many months."

Noting that prices of meats, fish and poultry have risen much more than the cost of living generally in the last 15 years, the Journal of Commerce emphasizes that cattle production has continued to expand at record-breaking levels and that "western cattle growers, interpreting the drouth in the southeast as handwriting on the wall, are beginning to liquidate their herds."

"Heavy marketings and slaughter of cattle are expected this fall," the newspaper states, "and marketings may continue large for several years, with depressing effects on prices of meats and some other foods."

Your furnace is dangerous when dirty. Have it cleaned regularly.

UNCLE EF

The most fitful sleepers in the country between now and November will be postmasters and internal revenue collectors. They've been on their jobs so long they probably regard them as their own business. A change in administration might raise a little sympathy for the postmasters, but nobody loves a tax collector. © NEA

There's good and bad news for pork eaters this week. Prices of center cut pork chops are up as much as 12 cents a pound in some cities—down a penny or two in others.

Weekend specials in seafood are planned in many parts of the country. Whiting, lobster, salmon, shrimp, scallops and frozen swordfish are among the varieties described by market sources as attractively priced.

Fricassee fowl, frying chickens and roast duck are also being promoted as among the week's best buys, along with cheddar cheese, picnic hams, ground beef, smoked pork butts and spare-ribs.

Steaks Unchanged

Prices of sirloin steaks and rib roasts of beef are generally unchanged from last week or a shade higher.

On the produce counter, snap beans, beets, cabbage, topped carrots, sweet corn, cucumbers and egg plant are listed by Department of Agriculture market specialists as plentiful and cheap, along with mushrooms, pears, peppers, yellow squash, tomatoes, peaches and potatoes.

Higher in price this week are lettuce, blueberries and spinach.

Much of the fruit in eastern markets shows the effects of drenching rains which hit orchards in the New York-Pennsylvania-New Jersey area recently following a prolonged dry spell. Agriculture Department spokesmen say some of the fruits and berries are waterlogged and a shade poorer in appearance and quality than they would otherwise be.

About Lower Meat Prices

There's been a good deal of discussion in trade quarters this week about the likelihood of lower meat prices, possibly in time for this year's Thanksgiving and Christmas feasts.

Meat prices, the New York Journal of Commerce says, "may be depressed materially this fall as the big movement of cattle to market gets under way. Declines in meat prices, once begun, may continue for many months."

Noting that prices of meats, fish and poultry have risen much more than the cost of living generally in the last 15 years, the Journal of Commerce emphasizes that cattle production has continued to expand at record-breaking levels and that "western cattle growers, interpreting the drouth in the southeast as handwriting on the wall, are beginning to liquidate their herds."

"Heavy marketings and slaughter of cattle are expected this fall," the newspaper states, "and marketings may continue large for several years, with depressing effects on prices of meats and some other foods."

UNCLE EF

The most fitful sleepers in the country between now and November will be postmasters and internal revenue collectors. They've been on their jobs so long they probably regard them as their own business. A change in administration might raise a little sympathy for the postmasters, but nobody loves a tax collector. © NEA

Knights Engage Auriesville Bus

In order to accommodate all who wish to join them in their pilgrimage to Auriesville September 14, the Knights of Columbus have made arrangements to provide bus transportation.

Members of Kingston Council 275, their families and friends will participate with Knights throughout the state in a visit to the Shrine of the North American Martyrs at Auriesville. Harold W. O'Connor, chairman of the local council's Catholic affairs committee, announced that many persons will make the trip by private automobile, a journey of approximately 100 miles from Kingston by way of Catskill, Middleburg, Sloansville and Glen.

For those who wish to use the bus, tickets may be procured from August 25 until September 7 at the Knights of Columbus building, Broadway at Andrew street, or from Chairman O'Connor, Joseph F. Saccoman, Robert Kershaw, Ralph Carpino, or John McManus. O'Connor said that bus tickets must be purchased in advance and that none would be available after September 7.

At Auriesville, the activities will commence with Mass at the shrine coliseum, a large church seating 10,000 persons. The Sunday schedule includes Masses there at 10, 11, and 12 o'clock. In order to insure timely arrival at the shrine, the bus is scheduled to leave the K of C building at 8 a. M.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Aug. 20—Miss Bernice Every, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Every of Clintondale, and Salvatore Appuzzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Appuzzo, of Ardonia, were married Sunday, August 17, at 2:30 in the Modena Methodist Church. The Rev. William A. Imler, pastor of the Modena - Clintondale Methodist Churches, performed the double ring ceremony, in the presence of a large crowd of relatives and friends. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and her attendants were Miss Cecelia Coldenham, as maid-of-honor, from New Jersey, Miss Marylou DuBois of Modena and Miss Jennie Grace Contarino of Chester as bridesmaids. Best man was Pat Bianco of Newburgh and ushers were Thomas Appuzzo of Ardonia and Robert Appuzzo of Milton. After a reception at Rhoda Arms, near Newburgh, the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada and the eastern seaboard. On their return they will live in Ardonia.

A clinic for well children of infant and pre-school age will be held Monday, August 25, in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. Immunization inoculations will be given at this time, in charge of Dr. Helena Mathaisen of Poughkeepsie, assisted by the public health nurse, Miss Dorothy Meredith, RN, and members of the public health nursing committee of the Town of Plattekill.

The daily vacation Bible School opened Monday for a week's session of classes ending Saturday, August 23.

Arrangements are complete for the serving of the annual clambake in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall Saturday, August 23, under the direction of members of the official board of the Modena Methodist Church. Two bakes will be served.

Miss Ratie Paltridge of Newburgh, who has been vacationing at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Barth in northern New York state, visited her sister, Mrs. Oscar R. Smith and family here recently.

Local members of the Plattekill Grange attended the annual clambake at Plattekill Hall Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Solie Bernard and family of Poughkeepsie, frequent visitors here, left Sunday for a vacation trip south, including Virginia, where they will visit Quartermaster and Mrs. Byron F. Paltridge. Quartermaster Paltridge arrived at the navy base recently from an overseas cruise.

Mrs. Harry Roosa visited her grandmother, Mrs. Martha Steer, in Walden Wednesday.

Mrs. Catherine Denton and grandson, Bobby Denton of Highland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager and family Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lare of Gardnertown and friends from Newburgh were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernard and daughter Sunday.

Mrs. Myron L. Shultis was among supper guests entertained recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Seymour.

Vernard B. Wager of Plattekill visited at the home of his mother, Mrs. A. D. Wager Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tuthill of Long Island were recent visitors in town.

Mrs. Lester Wager and daughter, Kathleen, Mrs. Catherine Denton and grandsons, Bobby Denton of Highland and Clayton Barley of Connecticut, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn Carroll and family at New Paltz Wednesday.

The name "passion-flower" arose from the supposed resemblance of the corona to the crown of thorns, and of the other parts of the flower to the uails, or wounds, while the five sepals and five petals were taken to symbolize the ten Apostles (Peter, who denied, and Judas, who betrayed, being left out of the reckoning), according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Here Is a Play Worth Remembering

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Very seldom do you get the chance to make the same type of play in a single hand for three different reasons. This happened, however, to Fred Sheinwold in the recent tournament at Sacandaga Park, N. Y.

West opened the ten of spades, and East naturally played the king. Sheinwold played low instead of winning the trick. He hoped that East's king was a singleton, in which case East would have to shift to a different suit, leaving the ace of spades in the South hand.

This was actually the situation, and East shifted to the ten of hearts. Sheinwold played a low card on this trick also, but his reason was different. If West held both the ace and queen of hearts, the situation was hopeless.

West would then be able to establish and cash the spades. If West had only the ace of hearts, but not the queen, there could be no harm in playing low on the first round of that suit. After all, the ace might be blank. ....

Once again luck was with declarer. West had to win with his blank ace of hearts. West returned a spade, and South won with the ace. He then led a low diamond from his hand. West played the eight of diamonds, and Sheinwold played a low diamond from the dummy instead of trying to win the trick.

The reason this time was that at least one diamond trick had to be lost no matter how favorably the diamonds were located. Declarer just wanted to make sure that he lost a diamond trick to East rather than to West. Since the eight of diamonds was the lowest outstanding card of that suit, Sheinwold could feel fairly sure that East would be obliged to win the trick.

This, again, was a good guess. East won with the ten of diamonds and returned another heart, allowing declarer to win a finesse with the jack. The diamond finesse now brought in the rest of that suit, and declarer made ten tricks for a top score.

City Claims Oldest Bottling Plant in the United States

Kingston boasts what is believed to be the oldest bottling plant in the United States.

Not only is Wood's Bottling Works, located at 7-9 Jansen avenue, more than a century old but it has been in the same family for that length of time.

Theodore C. Wood, Jr., present manager of the company, represents the fourth generation to be connected with the business.

Recently Wood came across an article in a trade magazine in which a certain mid-Western bottling company, stating that it was 97 years old, claimed to be the oldest in the United States. Wood has written a letter to the magazine in which he points out that the local company is at least 102 years old.

Purchased for $25

In 1850 Wood's great-grandfather purchased the plant by the payment of a sum of $25 owned by the firm. Adding $25 of his own he founded the business which flourishes today in the fourth generation.

Samples of the first bottles used by the firm, labeled "Abm Wood, 298 Union avenue, Rondout," are still treasured by the family. This bottle is thick and small and used a curious inside stopper. A later type bottle about the same size and shape, carried the label, "O. V. Wood, 322 Broadway, Kingston." The two addresses designated the same location.

A worn book of fomulae, now locked in a safe in the Wood home, 338 Broadway, provided the initial recipes for Abram Wood over a century ago.

When the plant, originally located at the corner of East Chester street and Broadway, was purchased by Abram Wood in 1850 following his return from the California gold fields it had already been in operation for an unknown period of time. The possibility exists that the business may be considerably older than 102 years.

The plant, re-located to 7-9 Jansen avenue in 1939 when the old building was torn down to make way for Cy's Diner, is presently engaged in the manufacture of 16 different soft drinks, including a new product, dietetic gingerale, which has no sugar content and is said to be ideal for persons suffering from overweight, diabetes, etc.

Sixteen Soft Drinks

Wood, tall, genial, 29-year-old army veteran who took over management of the business when he was discharged in 1946, pointed out that great care had been taken to secure the very finest extracts. Extracts used in the manufacture of the firm's 16 soft drinks were compared carefully with flavors distilled by other leading plants. As a result of this critical appraisal the firm decided to purchase its extracts from seven different houses.

The present manager, who left the study of dentistry in the early days of World War 2 to take a job in an aircraft plant, said that the firm had been doing business with its present suppliers for upwards of 25 years.

Wood left defense industry to serve four years in the U.S. Army, the last of which found him stationed at England General Hospital, Atlantic City, N. J., fashioning artificial limbs for paraplegic cases.

He tells a curious story about the time the old plant was torn down 13 years ago to make way for the diner. Seems that while demolishing the foundation some of the workmen found four bottles of beer that had been cached there, perhaps accidentally, when the building was erected.

Bottles Explode

When one of the workmen picked up two of the bottles and walked out into the hot sun with them they exploded in his hands. The beer, tightly sealed, had been fermenting for approximately a century.

Wood explained that the new dietetic gingerale which, he says, tastes like any other make, had been "so well received that we plan to produce one, perhaps two, other flavors in the same way." At present the plant uses two sizes of bottle, the large 28-ounce size and the small seven-ounce size, and bottles the following flavors: Orange, cream, root beer, birch beer, sarsaparilla, lime, cherry, raspberry, grape, ginger, club soda, strawberry, Wake-up, Cola and Tom Collins.

Orlando Van Deusen Wood succeeded his father in the business and was followed by a son, Theodore C. Wood, Sr., now retired, who saw the plant evolve from the use of corks in stone jugs and, later, spring stoppers with rubber washers, to the metal crowns which came into use about 25 years ago.

Whereas Abram Wood used three teams to make deliveries, Theodore Wood, Sr., used a truck, as does his son today. Beer was bottled until about 1900.

Mrs. Theodore C. Wood, Jr., is the former Mary Phelan, a native of Kingston. The Woods have three children, Mary Ann, 5, Theodore, 3rd, 23 months, and James E., seven months.

Heads Oldest U.S. Bottling Plant

Theodore C. Wood, Jr., manager of the Wood's Bottling Works, 7-9 Jansen avenue, which is believed to be the oldest bottling plant in the country, is shown here placing the bottles in a crate as the machine fills and caps them. Wood is the fourth generation of his family to operate the plant. (Freeman Photo)

Border Is Closed

Hong Hong, Aug. 21 (AP)—Reports from Macau today said the tense border between that tiny Portuguese colony and Red China has been closed again. No reason was given. The border was reopened early this week. It had been closed and opened several times during a series of clashes last month between Chinese Communists and Portuguese border guards.

He Was Right

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 21 (AP) — George Betzold sold a Roanoke man a family liability insurance policy last week. And Betzold filed a claim under the policy yesterday. The sales talk clincher by Betzold was that the unidentified client's big police dog might hurt somebody. The dog did—he bit Betzold.

Nine More Have Typhoid

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Nine more persons who had been at the Hi-Li Day Camp for Children in Far Rockaway, Queens, today were found definitely to be suffering from typhoid, bringing the total cases to 24. Ten other of the ex-campers, most of them children, became ill within the last 24 hours. This makes a total of 46 who have become sick, but only the 24 have been definitely identified as typhoid. Thirty-nine of the 46 are children. The camp was closed a week ago by order of the health department after the outbreak was traced to a cook.

A later type bottle about the same size and shape, carried the label, "O. V. Wood, 322 Broadway, Kingston." The two addresses designated the same location.

A worn book of fomulae, now locked in a safe in the Wood home, 338 Broadway, provided the initial recipes for Abram Wood over a century ago.

When the plant, originally located at the corner of East Chester street and Broadway, was purchased by Abram Wood in 1850 following his return from the California gold fields it had already been in operation for an unknown period of time. The possibility exists that the business may be considerably older than 102 years.

The plant, re-located to 7-9 Jansen avenue in 1939 when the old building was torn down to make way for Cy's Diner, is presently engaged in the manufacture of 16 different soft drinks, including a new product, dietetic gingerale, which has no sugar content and is said to be ideal for persons suffering from overweight, diabetes, etc.

Sixteen Soft Drinks

Wood, tall, genial, 29-year-old army veteran who took over management of the business when he was discharged in 1946, pointed out that great care had been taken to secure the very finest extracts. Extracts used in the manufacture of the firm's 16 soft drinks were compared carefully with flavors distilled by other leading plants. As a result of this critical appraisal the firm decided to purchase its extracts from seven different houses.

The present manager, who left the study of dentistry in the early days of World War 2 to take a job in an aircraft plant, said that the firm had been doing business with its present suppliers for upwards of 25 years.

Wood left defense industry to serve four years in the U.S. Army, the last of which found him stationed at England General Hospital, Atlantic City, N. J., fashioning artificial limbs for paraplegic cases.

He tells a curious story about the time the old plant was torn down 13 years ago to make way for the diner. Seems that while demolishing the foundation some of the workers found four bottles of beer that had been cached there, perhaps accidentally, when the building was erected.

Bottles Explode

When one of the workmen picked up two of the bottles and walked out into the hot sun with them they exploded in his hands. The beer, tightly sealed, had been fermenting for approximately a century.

Wood explained that the new dietetic gingerale which, he says, tastes like any other make, had been "so well received that we plan to produce one, perhaps two, other flavors in the same way." At present the plant uses two sizes of bottle, the large 28-ounce size and the small seven-ounce size, and bottles the following flavors: Orange, cream, root beer, birch beer, sarsaparilla, lime, cherry, raspberry, grape, ginger, club soda, strawberry, Wake-up, Cola and Tom Collins.

Orlando Van Deusen Wood succeeded his father in the business and was followed by a son, Theodore C. Wood, Sr., now retired, who saw the plant evolve from the use of corks in stone jugs and, later, spring stoppers with rubber washers, to the metal crowns which came into use about 25 years ago.

Whereas Abram Wood used three teams to make deliveries, Theodore Wood, Sr., used a truck, as does his son today. Beer was bottled until about 1900.

Mrs. Theodore C. Wood, Jr., is the former Mary Phelan, a native of Kingston. The Woods have three children, Mary Ann, 5, Theodore, 3rd, 23 months, and James E., seven months.

Heads Oldest U.S. Bottling Plant

Theodore C. Wood, Jr., manager of the Wood's Bottling Works, 7-9 Jansen avenue, which is believed to be the oldest bottling plant in the country, is shown here placing the bottles in a crate as the machine fills and caps them. Wood is the fourth generation of his family to operate the plant. (Freeman Photo)

Border Is Closed

Hong Hong, Aug. 21 (AP)—Reports from Macau today said the tense border between that tiny Portuguese colony and Red China has been closed again. No reason was given. The border was reopened early this week. It had been closed and opened several times during a series of clashes last month between Chinese Communists and Portuguese border guards.

He Was Right

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 21 (AP) — George Betzold sold a Roanoke man a family liability insurance policy last week. And Betzold filed a claim under the policy yesterday. The sales talk clincher by Betzold was that the unidentified client's big police dog might hurt somebody. The dog did—he bit Betzold.

Nine More Have Typhoid

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Nine more persons who had been at the Hi-Li Day Camp for Children in Far Rockaway, Queens, today were found definitely to be suffering from typhoid, bringing the total cases to 24. Ten other of the ex-campers, most of them children, became ill within the last 24 hours. This makes a total of 46 who have become sick, but only the 24 have been definitely identified as typhoid. Thirty-nine of the 46 are children. The camp was closed a week ago by order of the health department after the outbreak was traced to a cook.

World's largest ocean terminal is located at Southampton, England. It is 1200 feet long and triple-decked.

Chinese Code Books Found In Former General's House

The person who is fondest of the boss is the one who is self-employed. ©NEA

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Secret code books and "top secret" information on all airfields in Chinese Nationalist territory were reported yesterday to have been found in the home of a dismissed Nationalist general.

The house belonged to Lieut. Gen. P. T. Mow, former chief of a Chinese air force purchasing commission in Washington. He now is in a Mexico City jail, accused of failing to account for at least 25 million dollars in Nationalist funds.

Nassau county police and Nationalist officials searched the home Tuesday on a search warrant obtained by the Nationalists. District Attorney Frank A. Gulotta impounded the records.

John G. Brody, who has been retained as counsel by the Nationalists in the Mow case, said all of the material was the property of the Nationalist government.

He said it became stolen goods when it was removed from Mow's Washington office.

The Mows' $40,00 home, is in the fashionable Kensington section of Great Neck. Clues leading to the cache were contained in Chinese manuscript letters found in the general's Mexican home and written by Mme. Mow and subordinates of the general's.

Brody said the code books of the Chinese Air Force were labeled "top secret," as were the airfield maps. The air field information included length of runways, radio and lighting facilities and other detailed intelligence. In Washington the Chinese Embassy reported that the codes were out of date and had not been used since Mow's dismissal.

Mme. Mow disclaimed all knowledge of her husband's activities and said she had brought the records to Great Neck from their home in Washington.

British Rescue 37

ing slowly," said First Engineer Dulcilio Santiago, of Brooklyn.

The two big lifeboats meanwhile had assembled the survivors—Capt. Utvik and 23 others in one that brought them to Ramsgate, and the other 13 in a Dover boat.

On Way to Bremen

Utvik said the collision occurred off Sandetti Bank, midway between England and France.

The Western Farmer, which sailed under the name Henry Lomb during the war, was on her way to Bremen, Germany, with a load of coal from Norfolk, Va. She was owned by the Western Navigation Company of New York.

The survivors were soaked and covered with grease and oil as they stepped ashore. They were taken to a local seamen's club and given hot drinks, food and dry clothing.

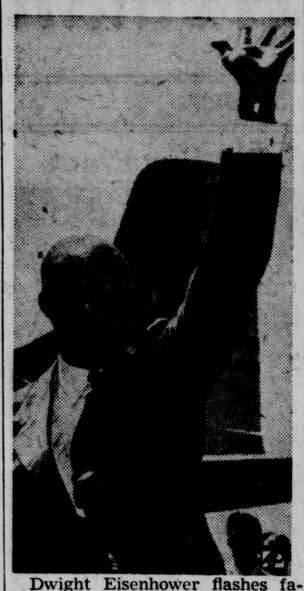
Radio Operator Albert Marshall, of New York city, described himself as the "luckiest man on the ship." Telling how the tanker's bow smashed into the radio shack, he said, "when I opened my cabin door only a few feet away, the bow seemed right on top of me."

Chief Engineer Samuel Ruben, also of New York, said he was sitting in his stateroom when "the ship gave a terrific shudder and the room caved in—I had to break down the door to get out."

The collision, said Second Engineer Alberto Gonzalez, of New Orleans, La., was "just as if someone had cut through the ship with a knife."

At another point off Britain's east coast, a British crew was less fortunate. A small trawler, the 260-ton Magnolia, blew up and sank in seven seconds. Three of the crew were killed; eight were rescued.

Ike Flashes Smile



Dwight Eisenhower flashes famous smile and waves at airport crowd on arrival in Boise, Idaho, to talk with western governors about campaign strategy. (AP Wirephoto).

Eisenhower Says

few hours sleep before the conference.

20,000 Are Present

At Boise, Eisenhower told a police-estimated crowd of about 20,000 persons:

"We have had for a long time a government in power that applies the philosophy of the left to government."

And he said centralization of power in Washington has become so great that the government "does everything but come in and wash the dishes for the housewives."

The general spoke from the steps of Idaho's capital in making what his associates had billed in advance as his first frankly political speech since winning the GOP nomination July 11.

He got a rousing ovation at the outset and was interrupted by applause several times.

Disregards Text

Eisenhower disregarded his prepared text, but in his off-the-cuff remarks he stressed much the same theme he has outlined in the prepared version.

He has folowed a similar technique in some previous speeches—sticking to the general outline of his prepared text but departing from the exact wording.

The general promised that as president he would devote all his efforts to providing a government "that does not grow complacent, that does not grow away from the people and become indifferent to them, that does not become arrogant in the exercise of its power, but strives to be the partner and servant of the people and not their master."

Too Sure of Itself

When one party has been too long in power, Eisenhower said, it becomes so sure of itself it does not have to uproot the first sign of dishonesty in government.

Instead, he added, it "goes along and thinks never mind, that it will be all right."

The general called for devoation of the nation's energies to peace, and "not to the sterile, negative, stupid business of war or preparation for war."

In his prepared text, the GOP nominee said the present administration is one which "with new faces and names is seeking to perpetuate itself" through election of his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

But in the address he made there was no mention of that. He did not, in the first place, refer to Stevenson by name.

In calling for a middle course, Eisenhower said it must be assumed that all Americans accept such social gains as old age security, insurance against unemployment, decent housing and better education facilities.

"Let's call those things just a solid floor that keeps all of us from falling into the pit of disaster," he said.

The Eisenhower conference here today is with about 140 GOP leaders from the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Eisenhower plans to fly back to Denver late in the day.

Democrats Tied...

got mixed up, but he didn't think he intentionally garbled anything.

Truman was asked to comment on Eisenhower's speech last night. He said he had not read it.

A reporter read some quotes including one that the government does everything but come in and wash the dishes.

Truman said those things would be gone into on the stump—not at a press conference.

Knows More Than Anybody

A reporter wondered how Truman could reply to Eisenhower's speeches in the campaign if he didn't read them.

The President said he thought he knew more about government than any man in the United States.

He said he did not have to read what the Republican candidates said, that he knew what they were going to say, that they were all wrong, and that he was going to prove that he is right.

He said he was familiar with the situation that he knew exactly what the Republicans would say. He told the reporters to read Willkie's and Dewey's speeches and they could see they got a repeat.

The reference was to the GOP presidential candidates of 1940-44-48—the late Wendell Willkie and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

A reporter told the president that an article in a current issue of the Saturday Evening Post asserts that Truman gave the farmers false information on the grain situation in the 1948 campaign. He asked for the president's comment.

No Use for Magazine

Truman said he had not read the article and did not intend to read it. He added that he did not often read the Saturday Evening Post because it was almost alway wrong.

The matter was dropped momentarily but later in the conference a reporter said "let's go back to the Saturday Evening Post."

What do you want to go back to that sheet for? The president asked with a grin.

The reporter said he wanted to know how the president could know the magazine was "always wrong" if he didn't read it.

Truman said all one had to do was to look at the table of contents to know it was always wrong.

The Post article, by Glenn Everett, dealt with the 1948 grain storage situation. The author interviewed Senator Williams (R-Del.) who criticized the conduct of the '48 campaign.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

Well, according to reports, business papers, and dope-sheets, we're on a one-way street again.

Everything is going up: business, prices, stocks, and what-have-you.

"There can't possibly be a slump before election," you hear everyone say, "because the 'government' wouldn't allow it to happen."

From a contrary standpoint we doubters always have to take these general opinion with large grains of salt.

The Ruminator has found, sprinkled among these one-way forecasts, an occasional comment to the effect that "only some unexpected or 'psychological' occurrence can upset the trends."

As a matter of fact, it is the "unexpected" that makes the theory of contrary opinion worth studying and giving heed to. If there were never any surprises in our running events, it would be much simpler to guess ahead.

It seems to me, considering the critical nature of events throughout the world, that the one thing we should always be expecting is the unexpected!

Who knows when a government is going to fall; when a civil war will break out in some corner of the globe which will have far-reaching repercussions; when financial crises will break suddenly; when a currency will be devalued; when Russia will start new aggressive tactics? You can run on with questions like these for a full page.

Instead of being indifferent to events and accepting the idea of a smooth, one-way road to riches—in the immediate future—it would be prudent, the Ruminator thinks, to concentrate our attention on what may happen unexpectedly.

Unfortunately, we are not likely to get tip-offs to sudden happenings, so we are placed in the unhappy position of "looking for trouble." Looking for trouble, that is, if we are interested in being prepared for the unexpected. Of course, if we don't care what happens, we can read the agreeable comments on every hand and not bother our heads about the "maybes" and the "perhaps."

I admit it is highly unsatisfactory to write this way. You will be saying by now, "Well, if you're so smart, what is going to happen unexpectedly?"

And inasmuch as I am not campaigning for office I can reply bluntly: "I don't know." (One or two candidates have learned, I think, that it is dangerous to say you don't know about everything, when you wish to be President, but so long as free speech is permitted I have the "inalienable right" to say what I please, although the editor also has the right to toss this in the waste basket if he thinks it is pure tripe!)

I do have one or two guesses, however, of what might prove surprising.

We know that the stock market has considerable influence upon people's thinking and action. Even those who never buy or sell a share of stock are affected by sudden moves in direction of stock prices. When prices run along without any marked change or activity, people pay little heed to Wall Street. But, if the market suddenly jumps upward sensationally and continues to run up for several days it attracts wide attention. And of greater influence—far greater, in fact—is a sudden break in the market which lasts for several days, or weeks. A downward burst in prices is quickly broadcast on news-programs and appears on front pages of metropolitan newspapers.

If the stock market were to start downward and continue for sometime I think you would find it would have surprising results on the forecasts you are now reading. People would then begin "to doubt" much of the boom talk. It would affect consumers generally in their buying plans. It would unquestionably adversely influence business thinking. Specifically, it would make many people who now talk about a slump next year wonder if the set-back were coming ahead of time.

So, for one thing we might keep an eye on Wall Street and see what happens.

Second, the Ruminator is going to try to keep in closer touch than usual with hints from abroad about what Russia may be up to. It is guessing-in-the-dark, of course, to forecast Russian moves, but we do know that the Kremlin is always jockeying for an offensive move politically, and the Middle East is "hot" for the unexpected.

In general, however, the contrary theory calls for particular awareness just now because opinions are too one-sided about economic affairs (although not one-sided yet about our election).

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, Aug. 20—Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Wilber entertained at a dinner party Saturday night in honor of their daughter, Laurel Jean, who was three years old August 16, and in honor also of Mrs. Norman D. Wilber, whose birthday was August 17. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Norvin R. Lasher, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Wilber, Ruth and Hubert Wilber, Mrs. Eileen Reeve.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gardner are having their house painted by Richard Byron.

Mrs. William Woodhouse and daughter, Ruth of Mount Vernon are guests of Mrs. L. Pfluger.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCarthy of New Rochelle spent the weekend with N. D. Wilber.

Miss Margaret Caminiti of Brooklyn was a weekend guest of Miss Rosalia Callaghan at her home on Mt. Tremper Heights.

Mrs. Edward Johnson of Long Island is spending some time at the home of her sister, Miss Catherine Feller.

William Steixner has returned to New York from a short vacation at the home of his mother, Mrs. Rose Steixner.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Imray are now residing in California where Mr. Imray is an engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Keating, long-time summer residents of Mt. Tremper, were here for a few days recently.

Master Kenneth Szekretar of Glendale, Long Island is spending a two-week vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutz.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Townsend of Flushing spent the weekend at their summer home here.

Mrs. White and Mrs. E. Johnson of New York have been guests of their sister, Miss Catherine Feller.

Mr. and Mrs. Edourd Crone of Mountain Lakes, N. J., spent a recent weekend with the Norman D. Wilbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Keiser, Mr. and Mrs. Norvin R. Lasher visited the Norman D. Wilbers Sunday evening.

This section of the parish will have its own booth at the annual fair of St. Francis de Sales Church, to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Phoenicia. Chairman of the booth, Mrs. Lillian Lane of Mt. Pleasant, is seeking donations of handmade and other salable articles.

The wedding of Miss Lorraine Brunet of Mt. Tremper and Robert Boice of Kingston took place Friday night, Aug. 15, in the Methodist Church at Phoenicia. The Rev. Purdy Halstead, Sr., officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Lorraine Hoyt of Mt. Tremper was matron of honor and Russell F. Boice of Kingston served as best man for his brother. The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of yellow satin with an overskirt of tulle. The neckline and hemline were both scalloped. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow roses and wore a shoulder-length veil attached to yellow roses in her hair. Mrs. Hoyt wore a ballerina-length gown of peacock blue taffeta and carried pink roses. Two receptions followed the ceremony; one at the Spruce Lodge in Phoenicia and the other at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Brunet, in Mt. Tremper.

30 U. S. Soldiers Drown in Training

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP)—Thirty U. S. soldiers on a training exercise today were feared drowned by a wall of water which engulfed them suddenly as they crossed a South Korean river.

In announcing last Monday's tragedy, the U. S. Eighth Army said bodies of only four had been recovered. Boats with grappling hooks swept the unidentified river for the other 26 missing men of the 45th infantry division.

Names were withheld until next of kin are notified.

Rain from a typhoon which lashed Okinawa and Korea this week unleashed the crushing nine-foot wall of water in the normally knee-deep river.

The men, part of one platoon, were trapped on a sandbar as they started to ford the river.

The 45th division originally was made up of Oklahoma national guardsmen called to active duty but in recent months it has become something of a rainbow division, with soldiers from all over the United States making up its ranks.

Priceless Pins

The phrase "pin money" is said to have originated in the 14th century when pins were so costly that they were only sold the first two days of January. Husbands gave their wives pin-money allowances to purchase this luxury.

Tumor Clinic Is Topic at Rotary

The purpose, function, operation and administration of the Ulster County Tumor Clinic were outlined in an interesting talk by the director of the clinic, Dr. Milton M. Grover, at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

The director emphasized that the clinic was not limited to diagnostic and treatment of cancer and allied diseases. Other diseases having nothing to do with cancer, he said, receive attention at the clinic.

The work of the consultant, who is at the clinic one day each week, the cooperation of the medical staff and the nurses and the assistance given by local associations including the American Cancer Society, the Red Cross, Junior League and the Legion Auxiliaries were explained in some detail by the speaker.

The large amount of clerical work in conjunction with the filing of pathological records and the facilities for deep X-ray cancer therapy and radium therapy also were discussed.

The part taken in the operation and administration of the clinic by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, Ulster County Board of Health and the Ulster County Medical Society was stressed by Dr. Grover.

President Steuding announced that on Wednesday next the Rotary Clubs of the area would play golf at Poughkeepsie.

Drivers Cut Capers

Boise, Idaho (AP)—Idaho cars, and drivers, have been cutting some strange capers this summer.

Lyle Newman of Twin Falls was cruising along the highway when the bottom dropped out of his truck. The truck body crunched to a stop on the pavement. The wheels rolled merrily on until they crashed into a telephone pole. A woman lost control of her car in Boise. The car snapped off a post, whirled around a corner, smashed into two parked cars and hit a garage door. Police decided a reckless driving charge was not enough. They charged her with "excessive reckless driving." Cecil Griner was driving his truck up the switch-back Lewiston Hill. The throttle pedal stuck. Griner leaned over to see what was wrong. The truck went over the side of the highway, rolled over four times, hit a rock ledge and dropped 15 feet to another loop of the highway. Griner staggered away with only slight injuries. Another driver escaped injury when he leaped from a car as it plunged over a 150-foot embankment and landed in the Payette river. His name was George Lucky.

Many English villages have odd names, including Egg Jump, Butter Bump, Great Fryup and High Ham.

Second Division Raises $15,000 for Orphanage

With the U. S. Second Division, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP)—Donations by soldiers of the Second Division have given scores of homeless Korean orphans a new lease on life in the past few weeks.

The division sponsored orphanage near Kapyong, "The Friendship Home," began operations late in July and the initial fund raising drive within the division netted more than $15,000.

The orphanage is caring for 67 children and plans to raise the number to 100.

There are about 186 cows for every 1,000 persons in the United States.

Tumor Clinic Is Topic at Rotary

The purpose, function, operation and administration of the Ulster County Tumor Clinic were outlined in an interesting talk by the director of the clinic, Dr. Milton M. Grover, at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

The director emphasized that the clinic was not limited to diagnostic and treatment of cancer and allied diseases. Other diseases having nothing to do with cancer, he said, receive attention at the clinic.

The work of the consultant, who is at the clinic one day each week, the cooperation of the medical staff and the nurses and the assistance given by local associations including the American Cancer Society, the Red Cross, Junior League and the Legion Auxiliaries were explained in some detail by the speaker.

The large amount of clerical work in conjunction with the filing of pathological records and the facilities for deep X-ray cancer therapy and radium therapy also were discussed.

The part taken in the operation and administration of the clinic by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, Ulster County Board of Health and the Ulster County Medical Society was stressed by Dr. Grover.

President Steuding announced that on Wednesday next the Rotary Clubs of the area would play golf at Poughkeepsie.

Drivers Cut Capers

Boise, Idaho (AP)—Idaho cars, and drivers, have been cutting some strange capers this summer.

Lyle Newman of Twin Falls was cruising along the highway when the bottom dropped out of his truck. The truck body crunched to a stop on the pavement. The wheels rolled merrily on until they crashed into a telephone pole. A woman lost control of her car in Boise. The car snapped off a post, whirled around a corner, smashed into two parked cars and hit a garage door. Police decided a reckless driving charge was not enough. They charged her with "excessive reckless driving." Cecil Griner was driving his truck up the switch-back Lewiston Hill. The throttle pedal stuck. Griner leaned over to see what was wrong. The truck went over the side of the highway, rolled over four times, hit a rock ledge and dropped 15 feet to another loop of the highway. Griner staggered away with only slight injuries. Another driver escaped injury when he leaped from a car as it plunged over a 150-foot embankment and landed in the Payette river. His name was George Lucky.

Many English villages have odd names, including Egg Jump, Butter Bump, Great Fryup and High Ham.

Second Division Raises $15,000 for Orphanage

With the U. S. Second Division, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP)—Donations by soldiers of the Second Division have given scores of homeless Korean orphans a new lease on life in the past few weeks.

The division sponsored orphanage near Kapyong, "The Friendship Home," began operations late in July and the initial fund raising drive within the division netted more than $15,000.

The orphanage is caring for 67 children and plans to raise the number to 100.

There are about 186 cows for every 1,000 persons in the United States.

Mature herd, first, Patroon Farms, Stone Ridge; second, Raymond DuBois, Gardiner.

Kingston Unit Wins

Mrs. William Powers, superintendent of the Homemaking Department, said that there were approximately 25 per cent more entries this year than last. Members of the Kingston unit, Home Bureau, actively demonstrating the technique of making fabric bags, was awarded first prize in unit exhibits in this section of the fair. Second prize went to the Plattekill unit, demonstrating the making of toothbrush handle rugs, and third prize to the Wiltwyck unit for its demonstration of the making of stuffed animals.

Miscellaneous exhibits in the Homemaking Department consisted of flower arrangements, African violets, knitted, crocheted woven articles, clothing, gloves, bags, suits, cotton dresses, textile stenciled articles, stenciled chairs, refinished furniture, antique and modern quilts, etc.

Approximately 200 pens, with all breeds of chickens, were entered in the poultry show, including pigeons and ducks.

Secretary Kurdt said that two of the ducks, penned in one cage, had gotten into a terrific fight last night at the height of activities, creating quite a stir among visitors at the fair. He said that Police Chief Raymond Van Buren had come to the rescue and put one in a different cage.

Educational Exhibits

The following groups had educational exhibits at the fair: Kingston Future Farmers, Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, YWCA, Ulster County Girl Scouts, Catholic Youth Organization, Highland FFA, Ulster County 4-H Clubs, New Paltz FFA, Ulster County Artificial Breeders Association, Ulster County Home Bureau and Pomona Grange.

The most extensive exhibits at the fair were those of the 4-H Clubs with many different clubs setting up their own booths. Some of these were the Clintondale Boys 4-H Club, Anderson Homemaking Club of Port Ewen, Rosendale Girls 4-H Club, Clintondale Tens and Teens (girls), Accord Lucky Clover 4-H Club, Tillson Busy Beavers, Marble Ridge, Lake Katrine, Stone Ridge Busy Beavers, Saugerties, Hurley Busy Bees, Metfield 4-H Club, Cedar Ridge, New Paltz Double Trio Club and the Triboro Club. The Ulster County Poultry Club had an interesting exhibit of baby chicks, demonstrating their care and feeding.

U. S. Leads in Steel

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP) — The United States now is turning out more than twice as much steel as Russia hopes to produce by 1955 under the Soviet's newest five-year plan. A comparison also shows the United States is producing more than four times as much oil, three times as much electric power and 1½ times as much coal as the Soviet has set for its targets.

fire apparently started in the first floor rear and traveled into the upper floors.

On hand to direct traffic and handle police work in connection with the fire were Cpl B. J. Herron and Trooper R. I. Ryan of the Kingston substation and Deputies Albert Eisele and Benjamin Newkirk of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department.

Second Major Fire

The burning of the hotel was the second major fire on the site on which a hotel or inn had been operated for well over a century.

Exact date of the building of the original hotel has been lost in history, but the first hotel, also a frame building, was operating as the Clinton Hotel in 1846, when it came into the Schumann family.

The building was purchased from a Mr. Denning in that year by George F. Von Beck, who the same year presented it as a wedding present to his daughter, Elizabeth, upon her marriage to Charles Schumann.

Upon the death of Charles Schumann, his son, George inherited the building in 1895.

Occurred in 1892

The fire which destroyed the original building and wiped out a large portion of the block occurred on March 17, 1892, according to family records, now in possession of Fred I. Schumann, who now lives at 150 O'Neil street, Kingston.

Up until the time of the fire, the hotel had retained the name of Clinton Hotel.

Construction of a new building on the site was hurried by the owner, George Schumann, who drew the plans himself. He had been studying architecture in college at the time of his father's death, and had left college to take over the active management of the hotel about the same time as the fire.

The present building was opened on October 15, 1892.

95 Years in Family

Fred Schumann took over active management in 1922, and continued to run it as Schumann's Hotel until 1941—a total of 95 years in the same family.

Located near the terminal of the D. & H. Canal, the hotel was used by tug captains and other officials of the shipping and canal companies. The canal barges at the time would be brought upriver by tug, and near Eddyville would be taken by mule along the 108-mile canal to Honesdale, Pa.

Party Ends in Tragedy

New York, Aug. 21 (AP) — An evening of merrymaking as a farewell gesture to a New Jersey soldier going overseas ended early today with his brother shot to death and two other New Jersey men under arrest. A police bullet felled Thomas Murphy, of Jersey City, as he and two other men fled from police after allegedly being caught breaking into two parked automobiles. The three were among five men making a round of the bars to celebrate the overseas departure Monday of Philip Murphy, 21, a private in the 101st Airborne Division, a brother of the dead man.

Steps Are Damaged

Steps leading into the Surrogate's quarters in the county building at Fair and Main streets were damaged when struck by a car this morning. A police report said a car driven by Edward Fraulus, 73, RD, Kingston, was headed east on Main street and making a right turn into Fair street at the time. The driver indicated to police that something happened, mechanically or otherwise, as he was making the turn, but he could not tell what it was. The steps were shifted about 2½ inches, police said.

Stock Is Purchased

M. Yallum Sons Inc., of 12 Broadway, today announced purchase of the stock of the Surplus Store, 99 North Front street. Details of the transaction were completed yesterday, and the owners of the downtown store said they will sell out the merchandise of the uptown store. The sale will be advertised next week.

Harriman to Serve

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—State Democratic Committee Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick announced today that Director of Mutual Security Averell Harriman will serve as chairman of the Democratic State Convention here Aug. 28. The convention will nominate a candidate for the U. S. Senate. Harriman has been widely mentioned as a likely candidate.

William Bendix

double-feature, "Whistle Stop," and "Pitfall."

With William Bendix in his party will be William Thomas, producer of "Caribbean," Walter Reade, Jr., and Starlet Lydia Clark.

They will appear on the stage of the Kingston Theatre tonight at 9:05 o'clock to greet residents and to extend Miss Dahl's apologies.

The rest of Miss Dahl's schedule today was carried out by Bendix, including the welcome by Acting Mayor Kelly at the city hall at 11:30 a. m., appearance as guest at the Kiwanis Club meeting at noon, radio interview at 1 p. m., tour of the Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park and awarding of trophies at 2 p. m.

Telegrams Sent

In her telegrams to Rigby and Kelly, Miss Dahl noted that she is "looking forward to being in your city this Sunday."

On that day, Summers explained, Miss Dahl will appear at the Kingston Theatre stage at 2:30 p. m. She will be unable to remain for the evening, as she is scheduled to leave for New York at 4:30 o'clock for rehearsal of the Lux Radio Theatre, on which she will appear that same night.

The change in plans was occasioned by the necessity to retake a scene of a new picture in which Miss Dahl co-stars with Alan Ladd, it was explained. The shooting of the picture finished on schedule, but it was found that the scene, involving a large number of persons, had to be taken over again. To release the whole cast for 48-hours would have put the shooting "over the budget" so far as to be impractical, it was pointed out, and for that reason the whole cast was kept there to finish the scene.

In her telegrams, Miss Dahl noted that Bendix and Thomas were both representatives of Hollywood and will "add much to the tercentennial" celebration.

The U. S. Air Force said its pilots damaged two of five Russian-made jets which tangled with four Sabre jets today near Sinuiju.

Swift U. S. Air Force Sabre jets destroyed three Communist MIG-15s and damaged two more in high altitude dogfights over northwest Korea Wednesday.

Third in Six Weeks

The raid on Pyongyang was the third in six weeks. The North Korean capital is one of 78 areas marked by the air force for possible destruction. Korean civilians have been warned to evacuate. Tuesday night B-29s dropped more leaflets on Pyongyang, warning civilians to stay away from military installations.

The Communists had established the two-build-up areas since the big July 11 and Aug. 9 raids on Pyongyang, the air force said.

U. S. Marine planes blasted 33 troop concentrations and buildings on the battlefront Wednesday.

Ground action was extremely light early yesterday and early today. Only fighting reported by the U. S. Army was on the central front southeast of Kumson. Two enemy squads probed UN positions and were repulsed in a 55-minutes firefight just after midnight.

Malenkov Is Seen

Central Committee Secretariat under Stalin.

Economic experts looking into the announcement of Russia's new five-year plan to be approved at the congress meeting acknowledged they were mystified as to why Moscow delayed announcing it.

The plan, which boasts especially of efforts to boost food production, already has been in effect 20 months. It is due to end Dec. 31, 1955.

These officials speculate that Soviet planners were forced to delay because they were uncertain until now of how much a demand the North Koreans and Chinese Communists in Korea would make on Soviet industry.

Kingston Unit Wins

Mrs. William Powers, superintendent of the Homemaking Department, said that there were approximately 25 per cent more entries this year than last. Members of the Kingston unit, Home Bureau, actively demonstrating the technique of making fabric bags, was awarded first prize in unit exhibits in this section of the fair. Second prize went to the Plattekill unit, demonstrating the making of toothbrush handle rugs, and third prize to the Wiltwyck unit for its demonstration of the making of stuffed animals.

Miscellaneous exhibits in the Homemaking Department consisted of flower arrangements, African violets, knitted, crocheted woven articles, clothing, gloves, bags, suits, cotton dresses, textile stenciled articles, stenciled chairs, refinished furniture, antique and modern quilts, etc.

Approximately 200 pens, with all breeds of chickens, were entered in the poultry show, including pigeons and ducks.

Secretary Kurdt said that two of the ducks, penned in one cage, had gotten into a terrific fight last night at the height of activities, creating quite a stir among visitors at the fair. He said that Police Chief Raymond Van Buren had come to the rescue and put one in a different cage.

Educational Exhibits

The following groups had educational exhibits at the fair: Kingston Future Farmers, Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, YWCA, Ulster County Girl Scouts, Catholic Youth Organization, Highland FFA, Ulster County 4-H Clubs, New Paltz FFA, Ulster County Artificial Breeders Association, Ulster County Home Bureau and Pomona Grange.

The most extensive exhibits at the fair were those of the 4-H Clubs with many different clubs setting up their own booths. Some of these were the Clintondale Boys 4-H Club, Anderson Homemaking Club of Port Ewen, Rosendale Girls 4-H Club, Clintondale Tens and Teens (girls), Accord Lucky Clover 4-H Club, Tillson Busy Beavers, Marble Ridge, Lake Katrine, Stone Ridge Busy Beavers, Saugerties, Hurley Busy Bees, Metfield 4-H Club, Cedar Ridge, New Paltz Double Trio Club and the Triboro Club. The Ulster County Poultry Club had an interesting exhibit of baby chicks, demonstrating their care and feeding.

U. S. Leads in Steel

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP) — The United States now is turning out more than twice as much steel as Russia hopes to produce by 1955 under the Soviet's newest five-year plan. A comparison also shows the United States is producing more than four times as much oil, three times as much electric power and 1½ times as much coal as the Soviet has set for its targets.

Historic Hotel . . .

fire apparently started in the first floor rear and traveled into the upper floors.

On hand to direct traffic and handle police work in connection with the fire were Cpl B. J. Herron and Trooper R. I. Ryan of the Kingston substation and Deputies Albert Eisele and Benjamin Newkirk of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department.

Second Major Fire

The burning of the hotel was the second major fire on the site on which a hotel or inn had been operated for well over a century.

Exact date of the building of the original hotel has been lost in history, but the first hotel, also a frame building, was operating as the Clinton Hotel in 1846, when it came into the Schumann family.

The building was purchased from a Mr. Denning in that year by George F. Von Beck, who the same year presented it as a wedding present to his daughter, Elizabeth, upon her marriage to Charles Schumann.

Upon the death of Charles Schumann, his son, George inherited the building in 1895.

Occurred in 1892

The fire which destroyed the original building and wiped out a large portion of the block occurred on March 17, 1892, according to family records, now in possession of Fred I. Schumann, who now lives at 150 O'Neil street, Kingston.

Up until the time of the fire, the hotel had retained the name of Clinton Hotel.

Construction of a new building on the site was hurried by the owner, George Schumann, who drew the plans himself. He had been studying architecture in college at the time of his father's death, and had left college to take over the active management of the hotel about the same time as the fire.

The present building was opened on October 15, 1892.

95 Years in Family

Fred Schumann took over active management in 1922, and continued to run it as Schumann's Hotel until 1941—a total of 95 years in the same family.

Located near the terminal of the D. & H. Canal, the hotel was used by tug captains and other officials of the shipping and canal companies. The canal barges at the time would be brought upriver by tug, and near Eddyville would be taken by mule along the 108-mile canal to Honesdale, Pa.

Party Ends in Tragedy

New York, Aug. 21 (AP) — An evening of merrymaking as a farewell gesture to a New Jersey soldier going overseas ended early today with his brother shot to death and two other New Jersey men under arrest. A police bullet felled Thomas Murphy, of Jersey City, as he and two other men fled from police after allegedly being caught breaking into two parked automobiles. The three were among five men making a round of the bars to celebrate the overseas departure Monday of Philip Murphy, 21, a private in the 101st Airborne Division, a brother of the dead man.

Steps Are Damaged

Steps leading into the Surrogate's quarters in the county building at Fair and Main streets were damaged when struck by a car this morning. A police report said a car driven by Edward Paulus, 73, RD, Kingston, was headed east on Main street and making a right turn into Fair street at the time. The driver indicated to police that something happened, mechanically or otherwise, as he was making the turn, but he could not tell what it was. The steps were shifted about 2½ inches, police said.

Stock Is Purchased

M. Yallum Sons Inc., of 12 Broadway, today announced purchase of the stock of the Surplus Store, 99 North Front street. Details of the transaction were completed yesterday, and the owners of the downtown store said they will sell out the merchandise of the uptown store. The sale will be advertised next week.

Harriman to Serve

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—State Democratic Committee Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick announced today that Director of Mutual Security Averell Harriman will serve as chairman of the Democratic State Convention here Aug. 28. The convention will nominate a candidate for the U. S. Senate. Harriman has been widely mentioned as a likely candidate.

William Bendix

With William Bendix in his party will be William Thomas, producer of "Caribbean," Walter Reade, Jr., and Starlet Lydia Clark.

They will appear on the stage of the Kingston Theatre tonight at 9:05 o'clock to greet residents and to extend Miss Dahl's apologies.

The rest of Miss Dahl's schedule today was carried out by Bendix, including the welcome by Acting Mayor Kelly at the city hall at 11:30 a. m., appearance as guest at the Kiwanis Club meeting at noon, radio interview at 1 p. m., tour of the Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park and awarding of trophies at 2 p. m.

Telegrams Sent

In her telegrams to Rigby and Kelly, Miss Dahl noted that she is "looking forward to being in your city this Sunday."

On that day, Summers explained, Miss Dahl will appear at the Kingston Theatre stage at 2:30 p. m. She will be unable to remain for the evening, as she is scheduled to leave for New York at 4:30 o'clock for rehearsal of the Lux Radio Theatre, on which she will appear that same night.

The change in plans was occasioned by the necessity to retake a scene of a new picture in which Miss Dahl co-stars with Alan Ladd, it was explained. The shooting of the picture finished on schedule, but it was found that the scene, involving a large number of persons, had to be taken over again. To release the whole cast for 48-hours would have put the shooting "over the budget" so far as to be impractical, it was pointed out, and for that reason the whole cast was kept there to finish the scene.

In her telegrams, Miss Dahl noted that Bendix and Thomas were both representatives of Hollywood and will "add much to the tercentennial" celebration.

Planes Bomb . . .

structures near Namchonjom—both in northwest Korea.

The U. S. Air Force said its pilots damaged two of five Russian-made jets which tangled with four Sabre jets today near Sinuiju.

Swift U. S. Air Force Sabre jets destroyed three Communist MIG-15s and damaged two more in high altitude dogfights over northwest Korea Wednesday.

Third in Six Weeks

The raid on Pyongyang was the third in six weeks. The North Korean capital is one of 78 areas marked by the air force for possible destruction. Korean civilians have been warned to evacuate. Tuesday night B-29s dropped more leaflets on Pyongyang, warning civilians to stay away from military installations.

The Communists had established the two-build-up areas since the big July 11 and Aug. 9 raids on Pyongyang, the air force said.

U. S. Marine planes blasted 33 troop concentrations and buildings on the battlefront Wednesday.

Ground action was extremely light early yesterday and early today. Only fighting reported by the U. S. Army was on the central front southeast of Kumson. Two enemy squads probed UN positions and were repulsed in a 55-minutes firefight just after midnight.

Malenkov Is Seen

Central Committee Secretariat under Stalin.

Economic experts looking into the announcement of Russia's new five-year plan to be approved at the congress meeting acknowledged they were mystified as to why Moscow delayed announcing it.

The plan, which boasts especially of efforts to boost food production, already has been in effect 20 months. It is due to end Dec. 31, 1955.

These officials speculate that Soviet planners were forced to delay because they were uncertain until now of how much a demand the North Koreans and Chinese Communists in Korea would make on Soviet industry.

Movies Are Called Less Offensive Morally in '51

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—A Roman Catholic official says American and foreign movies proved somewhat less "morally offensive" in 1951 than in 1950.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. Masterson, executive secretary of the church's legion of decency, made the statement yesterday before the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae. The group is made up of women graduates of Catholic high schools and colleges.

The Legion of Decency reviews films and books and publishes lists of those found "offensive."

In 1950, Masterson said, more than 20 per cent of the domestic-made films were disapproved. That same year, about 53 per cent of foreign films were considered "bad in whole or in part."

In 1951, the monsignor said, the percentage of "morally offensive" American movies dropped to 18, while 41 per cent of foreign films were disapproved.

SO KIND, SO GENTLE! Yes, with all its cleaning and whitening action, Tide has an amazing new mildness. Not even the leading "detergents" made especially for dishwashing are so gentle and kind to hands as Tide!

ACTUALLY BRIGHTENS COLORS! For dramatic proof of Tide's safety, watch soap-dulled colors come brighter after just one Tide wash! Yes, Ma'am! You can trust even your daintiest wash prints and pastels to Tide's gentle care.

SO THRIFTY TO USE! Such a little Tide makes such oceans of rich, long-lasting suds . . . goes so far in hardest water, it's a miracle of economy. Get Tide today, and next washday you'll rinse out cleaner, whiter clothes—with no bleaching!

WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN ANY BLEACH CAN BLEACH!

GETS CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP OF ANY KIND!

MILDER FOR HANDS THAN ANY OTHER LEADING "DETERGENT"!

Romance of Hayostak And Irish Colleen Off

Dingle, Ireland, Aug. 21 (AP)—Frank Hayostak started back to his Johnstown, Pa., home last night without even a final wave from blue-eyed Breda O'Sullivan, his Irish pen-pal who found his name and address in a bottle.

Breda, in fact, harvested oats on her mother's farm while Frank climbed aboard the bus for Tralee to start his homeward journey. No one, else came to see him off either, not even the disappointed Dingle folk who hoped that a romance would cap the couple's six years of letter writing.

Frank flew to Ireland two weeks ago to meet the young colleen he had known only through letters that started the day she found the bottle with his name and address on the Dingle shore. Frank had thrown the bottle overboard from the troop ship on which he was returning from World War II army service in Europe.

A week after his arrival, both flatly denied there was any romance. But one of the local folk said that Frank "looked a very disappointed man indeed" as he rode away last night in the rear of the bus.

After spending the night in Limerick, he was to take a plane for New York tonight at Shannon Airport.

Clinic Set August 26

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the clinic rooms, 97 Broadway, August 26 from 10 to 12 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child.

Cool Off With Canned Juices

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Canned citrus juices will cool you off and pack you with vitamins. So here are a few chilly hints:

To frost the glasses, dip in unbeaten egg white and then in granulated sugar.

Florida Soda

One 8-ounce can orange and grapefruit sections, chilled, 1 cup mixed, cut-up fresh fruit (berries, sliced peaches or whatever is seasonal), 1 No. 2 can orange juice, chilled, 1 pint pre-packaged vanilla ice cream.

Combine orange and grapefruit sections with the mixed, fresh fruit. Divide among five glasses. Add a half cup of the orange juice to each glass. Top with a large spoonful of ice cream. Stir and serve.

Fruitade
(8 servings)

Two cups grapefruit juice, 2 cups pineapple juice, 2 cups orange juice, ½ cup maraschino cherry syrup.

Combine all ingredients; chill. Serve with ice.

Miami Punch
(25 ½-cup servings)

Three No. 2 cans orange or tangerine juice, chilled, 1 quart gingerale, chilled, 2 pints pre-packaged vanilla ice cream.

Pour chilled orange or tangerine juice and gingerale into punch bowl; mix well. Drop ice cream by heaping tablespoonfuls into mixture. Stir until ice cream is partially melted.

Note: To make 50 servings, double citrus juice and gingerale and use ½ gallon pre-packaged vanilla ice cream.

TOMORROW'S MENU

LUNCHEON: Clam chowder, crackers, fruit salad with lemon fruit dressing, cheese bread, butter or margarine, tea, milk.

More Heat Is on Tap For Dried-up Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Thunderstorms with gusty winds cooled the central portions of the nation today but more sunshine and heat was on tap for most of drouth-seared Texas.

An area of thunderstorms extended from the northern Great Lakes southwestward across the central Mississippi valley to the southern Rockies. Elsewhere skies were mostly fair.

Cooler air moved in behind the thunderstorms in the Plains states.

The Texas heat wave entered its 21st day. A number of Texas cities have had temperatures of 100 degrees or higher each day this month.

Protection for Islands

Manila, Aug. 21 (AP)—Defense Secretary Ramon Magsaysay today said a vast radar warning network, using equipment from the U. S., will be woven around the Philippines. The first installations, he said, will be on northern Luzon Island, key target for an aggressor.

Your curtains and drapes will hang straighter if you sew weighted tape in the bottom seams.

Public Furniture Completes Renovations

The Public Furniture and G.E. Appliance Company at 121 North Front street recently completed renovations increasing store space an additional 10,000 square feet, it was learned today.

Matthew Gordon, manager, said that the store was now "12 times as large as it was" and that its line of merchandise was being extended considerably.

Gordon, who has been in the furniture business for the past 25 years, pointed out that the gigantic "house-cleaning sale" which began August 15, on $90,000 worth of merchandise was now entering its second week. As the sale continues, he pointed out, "we will revamp our stocks. We have complete fall merchandise ordered which will be on our floors in the very near future."

He said that this was the first great house-cleaning sale that the store had ever held and that it had produced "fine results" over the weekend. He pointed out that the store had hundreds of items and some very fine values.

The store, which is owned by Delno Ellis, runs over 100 feet deep now, Gordon stated, pointing out that it provided excellent floor space for display purposes.

Huge Stadium

ESOPUS

Esopus, Aug. 21 — The Misses Janet Mott and Isabelle Gruner of Highland spent a week's vacation at Virginia Beach, Va. They also stopped at Washington, D. C., where Miss Gertrude Mott joined them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maines are spending their vacation at Atlantic City.

Sergeant and Mrs. Ralph North of Fort Dix, N. J., spent Friday with their grandmother, Mrs. B. Tyler. Sgt. Tyler is expected home from Japan soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyler of Stony Point were the weekend guests of their mother, Mrs. B. Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Maier of New York who have been the guests of Mrs. Wilma Mueller for three weeks have returned home.

Methodist Church, the Rev. F. C. St. John, pastor—There will be no services in the church Sunday, Aug. 24 as the pastor will be on vacation.

Sacred Heart Church in Esopus—Masses at 8, 10 and 11 a. m. Novena in Honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Wednesday at 8 p. m.

The annual fair sponsored by the Sacred Heart Church will be held on the church lawn in rear of the church Friday and Saturday this week. The public is invited.

Mrs. Bertha Tucker of Greenwich was a guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Coutant a few days last week.

Deadly Cocktails

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—An overdose of cocktails made of shellac and sherry has caused the deaths of five men here since Monday, a Niagara county coroner reports. Dr. James W. Heary said yesterday that agents of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration had been called in to investigate the possibilities of narcotic peddling in connection with the deaths. Heary said one man had admitted before he died that he had taken some kind of pills along with the "S and S" cocktail.

Your Desserts Will Never Be Better Than the Sugar You Use!

SAVE THIS Domino RECIPE FOR

PEACH COBBLER

Now is the time to star juicy, golden peaches in your dessert menu. You'll win plenty of compliments when you follow this Domino recipe for tantalizing-sweet peach cobbler. And you'll see why Domino is America's favorite sugar!

- 1¼ cups Domino Extra Fine Granulated Sugar
- 2 tbsps. all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp. cinnamon • 6 tbsps. butter
- 5 cups sliced fresh peaches
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 tsps. baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt • ½ cup shortening
- ½ cup milk (approx.)
- 2 tbsps. Domino Extra Fine Granulated Sugar

Mix together 1¼ cups Domino Sugar, 2 tbsps. flour, and cinnamon. You'll like Domino's smooth-blending quality. Place peaches in 8"x8"x2" pan; sprinkle with sugar mixture and dot with 4 tbsps. butter. Sift together 1 cup flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add enough milk to hold ingredients together. Pat out dough on lightly floured board to fit pan. Place dough over fruit. Score in serving-size pieces. Dot with remaining butter and sprinkle with 2 tbsps. Domino Sugar. Bake in hot oven, 425°F., 30 min. Serve warm or cold. You'll always be proud of the wonderful treats you make with Domino Pure Cane Sugars.

Romance of Hayostak And Irish Colleen Off

Dingle, Ireland, Aug. 21 (AP)—Frank Hayostak started back to his Johnstown, Pa., home last night without even a final wave from blue-eyed Breda O'Sullivan, his Irish pen-pal who found his name and address in a bottle.

Breda, in fact, harvested oats on her mother's farm while Frank climbed aboard the bus for Tralee to start his homeward journey. No one, else came to see him off either, not even the disappointed Dingle folk who hoped that a romance would cap the couple's six years of letter writing.

Frank flew to Ireland two weeks ago to meet the young colleen he had known only through letters that started the day she found the bottle with his name and address on the Dingle shore. Frank had thrown the bottle overboard from the troop ship on which he was returning from World War II army service in Europe.

A week after his arrival, both flatly denied there was any romance. But one of the local folk said that Frank "looked a very disappointed man indeed" as he rode away last night in the rear of the bus.

After spending the night in Limerick, he was to take a plane for New York tonight at Shannon Airport.

Clinic Set August 26

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the clinic rooms, 97 Broadway, August 26 from 10 to 12 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child.

Cool Off With Canned Juices

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Canned citrus juices will cool you off and pack you with vitamins. So here are a few chilly hints:

To frost the glasses, dip in unbeaten egg white and then in granulated sugar.

Florida Soda
(5 servings)

One 8-ounce can orange and grapefruit sections, chilled, 1 cup mixed, cut-up fresh fruit (berries, sliced peaches or whatever is seasonal), 1 No. 2 can orange juice, chilled, 1 pint pre-packaged vanilla ice cream.

Combine orange and grapefruit sections with the mixed, fresh fruit. Divide among five glasses. Add a half cup of the orange juice to each glass. Top with a large spoonful of ice cream. Stir and serve.

Fruitade
(8 servings)

Two cups grapefruit juice, 2 cups pineapple juice, 2 cups orange juice, ½ cup maraschino cherry syrup.

Combine all ingredients; chill. Serve with ice.

Miami Punch
(25 ½-cup servings)

Three No. 2 cans orange or tangerine juice, chilled, 1 quart gingerale, chilled, 2 pints pre-packaged vanilla ice cream.

Pour chilled orange or tangerine juice and gingerale into punch bowl; mix well. Drop ice cream by heaping tablespoonfuls into mixture. Stir until ice cream is partially melted.

Note: To make 50 servings, double citrus juice and gingerale and use ½ gallon pre-packaged vanilla ice cream.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Blackberries, ready-to-eat cereal, poached eggs on toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Clam chowder, crackers, fruit salad with lemon fruit dressing, cheese bread, butter or margarine, tea, milk.

More Heat Is on Tap For Dried-up Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Thunderstorms with gusty winds cooled the central portions of the nation today but more sunshine and heat was on tap for most of drouth-seared Texas.

An area of thunderstorms extended from the northern Great Lakes southwestward across the central Mississippi valley to the southern Rockies. Elsewhere skies were mostly fair.

Heavy wind and rain raked parts of northeast Missouri and western Illinois. The storm uprooted trees and damaged a dozen homes and several carnival tents at Clarence, Mo.

Cooler air moved in behind the thunderstorms in the Plains states.

The Texas heat wave entered its 21st day. A number of Texas cities have had temperatures of 100 degrees or higher each day this month.

Protection for Islands

Manila, Aug. 21 (AP)—Defense Secretary Ramon Magsaysay today said a vast radar warning network, using equipment from the U. S., will be woven around the Philippines. The first installations, he said, will be on northern Luzon Island, key target for an aggressor.

Your curtains and drapes will hang straighter if you sew weighted tape in the bottom seams.

Public Furniture Completes Renovations

The Public Furniture and G.E. Appliance Company at 121 North Front street recently completed renovations increasing store space an additional 10,000 square feet, it was learned today.

Matthew Gordon, manager, said that the store was now "12 times as large as it was" and that its line of merchandise was being extended considerably.

Gordon, who has been in the furniture business for the past 25 years, pointed out that the gigantic "house-cleaning sale" which began August 15, on $90,000 worth of merchandise was now entering its second week. As the sale continues, he pointed out, "we will revamp our stocks. We have complete fall merchandise ordered which will be on our floors in the very near future."

He said that this was the first great house-cleaning sale that the store had ever held and that it had produced "fine results" over the weekend. He pointed out that the store had hundreds of items and some very fine values.

The store, which is owned by Delno Ellis, runs over 100 feet deep now, Gordon stated, pointing out that it provided excellent floor space for display purposes.

Huge Stadium

ESOPUS

Esopus, Aug. 21 — The Misses Janet Mott and Isabelle Gruner of Highland spent a week's vacation at Virginia Beach, Va. They also stopped at Washington, D. C., where Miss Gertrude Mott joined them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maines are spending their vacation at Atlantic City.

Sergeant and Mrs. Ralph North of Fort Dix, N. J., spent Friday with their grandmother, Mrs. B. Tyler. Sgt. Tyler is expected home from Japan soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyler of Stony Point were the weekend guests of their mother, Mrs. B. Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Maier of New York who have been the guests of Mrs. Wilma Mueller for three weeks have returned home.

Methodist Church, the Rev. F. C. St. John, pastor—There will be no services in the church Sunday, Aug. 24 as the pastor will be on vacation.

Sacred Heart Church in Esopus—Masses at 8, 10 and 11 a. m. Novena in Honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Wednesday at 8 p. m.

The annual fair sponsored by the Sacred Heart Church will be held on the church lawn in rear of the church Friday and Saturday this week. The public is invited.

Mrs. Bertha Tucker of Greenwich was a guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Coutant a few days last week.

Deadly Cocktails

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—An overdose of cocktails made of shellac and sherry has caused the deaths of five men here since Monday, a Niagara county coroner reports. Dr. James W. Heary said yesterday that agents of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration had been called in to investigate the possibilities of narcotic peddling in connection with the deaths. Heary said one man had admitted before he died that he had taken some kind of pills along with the "S and S" cocktail.

SAVE THIS Domino RECIPE FOR

PEACH COBBLER

Now is the time to star juicy, golden peaches in your dessert menu. You'll win plenty of compliments when you follow this Domino recipe for tantalizing-sweet peach cobbler. And you'll see why Domino is America's favorite sugar!

1¼ cups Domino Extra Fine Granulated Sugar
2 tbsps. all-purpose flour
1 tsp. cinnamon • 6 tbsps. butter
5 cups sliced fresh peaches
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 tsps. baking powder
½ tsp. salt • ⅓ cup shortening
⅓ cup milk (approx.)
2 tbsps. Domino Extra Fine Granulated Sugar

Mix together 1¼ cups Domino Sugar, 2 tbsps. flour, and cinnamon. You'll like Domino's smooth-blending quality. Place peaches in 8"x8"x2" pan; sprinkle with sugar mixture and dot with 4 tbsps. butter. Sift together 1 cup flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add enough milk to hold ingredients together. Pat out dough on lightly floured board to fit pan. Place dough over fruit. Score in serving-size pieces. Dot with remaining butter and sprinkle with 2 tbsps. Domino Sugar. Bake in hot oven, 425°F., 30 min. Serve warm or cold. You'll always be proud of the wonderful treats you make with Domino Pure Cane Sugars.

Fair Street Nursery Will Open Sept. 8

The Fair Street Nursery School located at 209 Fair street will reopen on Monday, Sept. 8, with morning and afternoon sessions. Some vacancies still remain in the afternoon session from 1 to 3:45 p. m. daily. The morning sessions are completely filled.

Mrs. George Dingee, president of the board of directors, commented today, "with the finest educational equipment available, a planned environment, excellent teaching staff, eager children, and an enthusiastic roster of parents, we at the Fair Street Nursery School, look forward to an unusually profitable year."

A new type of prescription for the health and happiness of a youngster was presented by Dr. Benjamin Miller, child specialist and father, in an article which appeared in the current issue of Parents' Magazine. Mrs. Dingee quoted Dr. Miller, "I am such a firm believer in the value of nursery schools, that I believe I would provide a good nursery school for my children in preference to a college education."

Expressing confidence and pride in the local nursery, Mrs. Dingee believes the school more than adequately meets the high standards set by Dr. Miller for good nursery schools. "Our children live in the friendly, unhurried atmosphere where a child has freedom to develop muscular, social and creative skills," she said.

Mrs. Benjamin Emerick and Mrs. Herbert Lown, teachers with many years of experience in this field of education, will again be directing the morning and afternoon sessions.

The Nursery School Board will meet during the next week.

MRS. KENNETH ROBERT MARZ

Miss Dorothy Agnes Zeeh was married Sunday, Aug. 17, in St. Peter's Church. (Pennington Photo).

Dorothy Agnes Zeeh Becomes Bride of Kenneth Robert Marz

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Agnes Zeeh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Zeeh, 41 West Union street, to Kenneth Robert Marz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marz, Route 1, this city, took place at 2:30 p. m. on Sunday, Aug. 17, in St. Peter's Church. The Rev. Joseph A. Geis, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 150 guests was held in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel. Dick Lamoreaux and his orchestra furnished the music.

White gladioli and hydrangea were used for decorating the altar. Miss Nan Goldrick, organist, accompanied Mrs. Gerald Perry who sang the Panis Angelicus and Shubert's Ave Maria.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white imported rosepoint lace and nylon tulle fashioned over slipper satin and styled with long pointed sleeves and a full skirt terminating in a court train. Her handrolled, fingertip illusion veil was attached to a matching lace cap trimmed with lilies-of-the-valley. She carried white glamelias.

Social— Dorothy Agnes Zeeh 2..

Miss Marie Zeeh was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Helen B. Koeppen was the bridesmaid and Miss Arlene Zeeh, a junior bridesmaid. The attendants were attired in gowns of white organza over white taffeta and trimmed with Swiss eyelet. They wore matching mitts, white Queen Anne caps and carried crescent shaped bouquets of white asters and English ivy.

Lewis Marz was his brother's best man. The ushers were Raymond and John Zeeh, brothers of the bride; and Robert and Edward Marz, brothers of the bridegroom.

Upon their return from a wedding trip in the south, the couple will live at 80 Tubby street. For traveling, the bride chose a dusky pink summer suit, white accessories and a white glamelia corsage.

Mrs. Marz was graduated from Kingston High School and has been employed as a secretary at the Stuyvesant Motors.

Strikes at Rich Class

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 21 (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh struck another blow at Iran's rich ruling class today by telling them to pay up back taxes at once, or face jail and loss of their land. Acting under virtual dictator's powers given him by Parliament for a six-month period, Mossadegh ordered an investigating committee set up to look into tax delinquency. The committee was empowered to rule how much landowners owe in back taxes and demand immediate payment. The committee also has the power to send individuals to jail and order confiscation of their property if they fail to pay up.

"PATCHING UP" MISUNDERSTANDING

A letter this morning says: "My husband and I were invited to a Sunday night supper at the house of friends. When the hostess called and invited us to this party I declined as we had intended to leave that morning for our vacation. Our plans were changed at the last minute and we didn't go. Having already declined the invitation to supper, we didn't go to the party either. The day after, I met my hostess on the street and before I had a chance to say anything, she very sarcastically remarked, 'I thougnt you were going away.' I feel terrible about this and don't want her to think I just used this as an excuse not to go to her party. Will you please tell me if we were wrong in not going to her party after our other plans fell through?"

For the very reason that your refusal was unfairly misunderstood it would have been better to have telephoned and explained that your visit was put off and you would be able to go to the party, if places could be provided for you. As it is, a mutual friend may perhaps straighten it out for you. But unless an ideal go-between exists, it is difficult to smooth out this type of unreasonable mistrust.

Explain to Sister

Dear Mrs. Post: Just recently, on my invitation, my girl friend and I drove to another city to visit my sister and brother-in-law for a period of four days. While there, we made use of the Country Club facilities, the charge for which was to be billed to them at the end of the month in the regular way. As the guests' fees run high and my sister and brother-in-law are a struggling young couple, I wrote a check when I returned home and asked my sister to put it toward the bill. The check was returned by my brother-in-law with a very indignant note. Will you please tell me if I was wrong in doing what I did, and if so, what can I do about it?

Answer: Write your sister that you are very distressed about your brother-in-law's feelings, but that you merely thought it was unfair to put your bill on his account.

No Lands Acquired

Erskine said no lands have been acquired to date in the proposed interchange area. These will be largely truck farm lands, and the engineer said the farmers will be given sufficient advance notice before the work is ready to start. He was unable to say at this time the extent of farm lands required for the project, because "the land-taking maps have not been pre-pared."

Plans, covering the actual road work for the Kingston-Sawkill section have been submitted to Albany and the engineers are progresing with plans for the next section extending southward from Route 28 to Whiteport. It is expected that the state will advertise for bids on this in the fall.

'To Await Bulldozer'

Meanwhile, one Plank road farmer said this week, he had no immediate plans for his next move, and probably would not make any "until I see a bulldozer on the job out in the yard."

Test borings in the area earlier this year indicated that the Maggiore and Britt farms will be most immediately involved. Construction of the interchange is expected to take considerable of their properties and will require the relocation of a section of the Esopus creek bed.

Kerhonkson Teacher Weds William Krom In Port Jervis

Miss Edith June Pinckney, daughter of Mrs. Floyd D. Pinckney and the late Mr. Pinckney, of 3 Beach road, Port Jervis, became the bride of Pfc. William Edgar Krom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Krom, 147 Clinton avenue, at 2 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 17, in St. Mary's Church, Port Jervis. The Rev. Louis A. Judas, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for members of the immediate families was held at the Hotel Park Lane, Port Jervis.

Escorted by her uncle, Harry Longrigg, Port Jervis, the bride wore a white satin strapless gown and a jacket of matching lace. Her ballerina length skirt was fashioned with three overskirts of nylon tulle. A 50-year old lace cap secured her fingertip length, tulle veil. She carried a white prayer book with white roses, satin streamers, and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Annette Pinckney was her sister's maid of honor. With her ballerina length strapless gown of white nylon, she wore a matching tulle stole and a Juliet cap of silk braid trimmed with rhinestones and carried a bouquet of Happiness roses.

John Krom of Kerhonkson was his brother's best man.

The couple left for a motor trip through the New England States and Canada. They will make their home in Kerhonkson. For traveling, the bride wore a blue plaid suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Krom was graduated from the Port Jervis High School and Albany State Teachers College. She is a teacher in the Kerhonkson schools.

The bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Army at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

YMCA Boys Will Visit Dutchess Fair

The YMCA will sponsor a trip for members of the Boys department on Tuesday, Aug. 26, to the Dutchess County Fair in Rhinebeck.

The group will leave the Y by chartered bus at 9 a. m. and return at 5 p. m.

Reservations for the trip may be made by telephoning 1911, or in person at the boys department of the Y.

Rapid Hose to Meet

Final plans for the annual outing of Rapid Hose Company will be made at an adjourned meeting at 8 p. m., today in the Hone street engine house. All members are requested to attend.

Oppose Purge Demands

Beirut, Lebanon, Aug. 21 (AP)—Lebanon's government met widespread opposition demands for a corruption purge today with sweeping reform proposals and Prime Minister Sami Solh said he would ask Parliament for powers to rule the country by decree for six months. The proposed reforms, approved by the cabinet last night, include distribution of state land among the peasants, amendment of election laws, reform of the judicial system, review of press laws and dismissal of inefficient and unnecessary government employes.

Dodger Stars Erupt in Seventh Inning to Rout Kingston Juniors, 11-3

1,000 See Locals Stopped Cold After Scoring All Runs in Opening Stanza

Most of the 1,000 fans who jammed the turnstiles at municipal stadium Wednesday night were hardly settled in their seats when the Kingston Juniors got off to a fast start with three runs in the first inning against the Brooklyn Dodgers' Stars of Tomorrow.

But there Kingston's bid stopped for a victory in the renewal of the series with the Dodgers' Stars.

Brooklyn quickly tied the count in the second added one in the third and enjoyed a seven-run splurge in the seventh to post an early 11 to 3 triumph.

Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly threw out the first ball to start the game.

Carlino Raps Homer

A couple of minutes after the pre-game festivities were completed, Kingston put back-to-back singles by Joe Norton and Al Vogt and a homer by Tom Carlino to give the locals a quick 3-0 bulge.

Jerry Bechtold started for Kingston and pitched good ball until the seventh when his infield collapsed during the Dodgers' seven-run uprising.

Veteran Tommy Fisher and George "Mousey" Telepas finished up the mound chores for the locals.

Going all the way for Brooklyn was Jack Dalton, a strong-armed right hander, who stopped Kingston cold after the locals' brief flurry in the opening inning.

Although showing some wildness at times, Dalton was in complete control after his bumpy first frame. The Dodger flinger gave up only five hits, three of those coming in the first frame, and struck out 11.

Kingston's fourth safety off Dalton came in the third when Norton collected his second hit. The lanky hurler didn't allow another hit until Carlino's one-baser in the ninth.

Rally in Ninth Fails

The locals' only other threat came in that ninth inning when Norton and Ronnie Mauro walked and Carlino hit his single to load the sacks with two out. Don Lyons ended the threat when he hit into a force play to end the game.

A long triple by Bob Coccodrilli, first sacker for the Dodgers, highlighted the visitors' three-run blast in the second inning.

Brooklyn held its 4-3 lead after putting over a run in the third until the big uprising in the seventh.

Fisher came on the scene for the locals in the seventh after the Dodgers had reached Bechtold for a pair of runs. Fisher relieved with the bases loaded.

Lund, catcher for the Dodgers, quickly unloaded the hassocks when he smashed a hard liner to left which skipped over Norton's head when he fell trying to field the ball. Coccodrilla jammed a double and Ed O'Brien and Ed Rippilli greeted Fisher for singles to send Kingston's second hurler to an early shower.

Telepas Looks Good

Telepas, in relieving Fisher, turned in an able relief stint. He retired the Dodgers in the seventh thanks to a double play and pitched hitless ball in the eighth and ninth innings.

The fielding gem of the fray was Eddie O'Brien's one-handed running catch of George Glaser's sharp liner to right center in the sixth. O'Brien's catch robbed Glaser of a sure triple and a Kingston run.

Carlino and Norton picked up four of the five hits off Dalton, the other coming off the bat of Vogt in the first frame. Ronnie Mauro and Link Crosby worked Dalton for three free tickets each.

Eddie O'Brien, one of the O'Brien twins who starred on the basketball courts for Seattle University last winter, sparked the Dodgers with three hits in four trips.

Hilltops Meet Subways Tonight In Opener of Softball Finals

Freer Hurls 3-Hit Win Over Beicherts

Hilltop Restaurant and Subway Grill will meet in the City Softball League finals today at Block Park in the best three out of five series.

The Hilltopers eliminated Beicherts Wednesday night in the Jack Hoffman Memorial playoff by scoring a 5 to 0 victory behind the three-hit shutout hurling of Ben Freer.

Subway Grill eliminated Sickler's Delivery earlier this week by 3 to 2 in extra innings to enter the league finals.

Following tonight's singleton at the downtown park, Hilltop and the Subway will clash in a big double-header Sunday starting at 2:05 p. m. at Hasbrouck Park.

The Hilltopers pushed over what proved to be the winning run in the first frame against Beicherts last night. They added three in the fifth and one in the seventh to complete the rout.

Bailey Leads Attack

Freer, pitching a solid game, was nicked for three hits, one a double by Bob Graves of Beicherts. Freer issued two walks and fanned five.

Basch went all the way for Beicherts and gave up nine hits, all singles.

Frank Bailey led the attack on Basch with a perfect night, four hits in four trips and scored three runs.

Loses in Debut

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Dracma, Italian trotting mare making her debut in this country, failed by a neck last night as Deseret stepped the mile in 20:09 1/5 to win the featured Bel Paese trot at Roosevelt Raceway. Deseret, driven by Dick Williams, was an outsider in the wagering and paid $34.00 for a $2 win mutuel. Dracma, in this country two months with the $50,000 Roosevelt trot on Sept. 11 as her chief objective, went off the favorite.

Wiltwycks Meet Chezzies Tonight

City Baseball League action resumes tonight at the Athletic Field, weather permitting.

Tonight's fray will bring together Wiltwyck Motors and Chez Emile.

Last night's regular league game was called off due to the Brooklyn Dodgers' Stars tilt at municipal stadium.

Boys Club Turns Back Sinagra Tossers, 12-5

The Kingston Boys' Club defeated Sinagra's Market baseball team 12 to 5 in a recent game. The Boys' Club's offense was featured by a two-run homer by John Cody. In recent games the Boys' Club whipped the Blue Birds 10 to 1 and lost to the Athletic Field All Stars 9 to 2.

The Kingston Boys' Club plans a heavy schedule for the next five days. Tuesday at the Athletic Field the club plays the Gay St. Blues, Friday, same place, the Athletic Field All Stars, and Monday, they play the Port Ewen Blue Jays.

Ever since Luke Easter became a regular on the Cleveland Indians it has been said, "as Easter goes so go the Indians."

Cleveland's pennant hopes have waxed and waned the past two seasons with the rise or decline of Easter's fortunes at the plate. A trick knee more than lack of punch in the clutch has been responsible for Easter's failure to deliver the goods in the past.

Big Luke is hot right now and so are the Indians.

Cleveland, with Easter playing a leading role, swamped the Boston Red Sox, 18-8 yesterday and pulled to within a game of the American League's front-running New York Yankees. The Yanks were humiliated, 12-3, by the Chicago White Sox. Philadelphia tripped Detroit, 4-3, in the circuit's only night game. Another night game between St. Louis and Washington was rained out.

Brooklyn moved seven games ahead of the New York Giants in the National League, downing Cincinnati, 6-3. The Giants and Chicago Cubs were rained out. In other games, Philadelphia tamed Pittsburgh, 3-1 and St. Louis trounced Boston, 9-2, in a game called because of rain in the eighth inning.

Hits Grand Slam Homer

Easter, Ray Boone and Larry Doby were the ringleaders in Cleveland's rout of the Red Sox. Easter batted in six runs on a grand-slam homer and two singles, Boone sent six mates across on a homer and two singles and Doby drove in a pair of runs on his 27th homer and two singles.

Since July 15 when Easter rejoined the Indians after a short exile to Indianapolis of the American Association the Tribe has won 24 games and lost 15, a .615 pace.

During this span Easter has wacked out 26 hits in 78 times at bat, a .333 average, driven in 28 runs and clouted eight homers. Before he departed for Indianapolis Easter was hitting .208 and had driven in 33 runs and connected for only 11 homers in 63 games.

The Indians spotted the Red Sox a 3-0 lead in two innings before they lowered the boom with a ten run uprising in the third against Maury McDermott, Ray Scarborough and Willard Nixon. Easter climaxed the rally with his jackpot wallop.

Lemon Notches 15th

Easter and Boone singled home a pair of runs apiece in the fifth and the Tribe closed out their scoring with four more in the seventh on Doby's homer and Boone's three-run blast. Bob Lemon gave up 15 hits in breezing to his 15th victory.

Chicago also came up with a big inning to beat the Yanks. The White Sox scored six runs in the third inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit and that was more than Saul Rogovin needed to hang up his 11th triumph.

Johnny Sain, Harry Schaeffer and Jim McDonald were the victims of Chicago's flareup that included six singles and two walks. Sam Mele completed Chicago's scoring with a two-run homer in the eighth. The homer was the only extra base blow collected by the White Sox in their 14-hit assault. Rogovin yielded five safeties including a home run by Gene Woodling.

Carl Scheib drove home two runs and scored the winning tally in the A's triumph over Detroit. Scheib singled home two runs in the seventh to tie the score at 3-3 and then pranced over the plate on one-baggers by Pete Suder and Ferris Fain.

Haddix Wins in Debut

Brooklyn found Ken Raffensberger easy pickings at Cincinnati. The Dodgers slugged the veteran southpaw for 11 hits and all of their runs in less than four innings. Home runs by Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella featured the Dodger attack behind eight-hit pitching by Billy Loes.

Connie Ryan was the big wheel in Philadelphia's triumph over Pittsburgh. He clouted his 12th homer, walked three times, stole two bases and scored all of the Phils' runs.

Harvey (The Kitten) Haddix turned in a five hitter in his major league debut for the Cards. Earl Torgeson gave Haddix his most trouble, whacking out a homer and two singles.

Pony League Hurlers In Double No-Hitter

Batavia, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—One of baseball's rarest feats—a double no-hit game—was turned in by two Class D Pony League pitchers last night with Bradford defeating Batavia 1-0.

Frank Etchberger, a Philadelphia Phillies farmhand, gained the decision over Jim Mitchell as Bradford put together a walk, sacrifice, wild pitch and an infield out for the lone run in the eighth inning.

Etchberger fanned six and walked five. The 19-year-old Mitchell struck out five and passed one.

The only double no-hit game in the major league record book was turned in by Fred Toney of Cincinnati and Jim Vaughn of Chicago in 1917. The Reds broke Vaughn's spell in the 10th and won 1-0.

Brooks Purchase Cuban

Pittsburgh, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today the purchase of Edmundo Amoros, 19-year-old Cuban, from their St. Paul farm. Amoros, playing his first season of organized baseball, was batting .340 and had 53 extra base hits, including 19 homers in the American Association. To make room for Amoros, pitcher Chris Van Cuyk was optioned to St. Paul. The southpaw has been ineffective in recent weeks.

Wells to Race Against Robinson in Rochester

Leroy "Pappy" Wells, of Kingston, who reached Haverstraw six minutes before the other drivers in Sunday's Albany-to-New York outboard marathon, will compete against Jim Robinson, the U. S. champion, in Rochester August 31 for the divisional championship, it was pointed out today.

The winner of the Rochester race will compete in the nationals in California scheduled in September.

Wells, who is the high point driver of the Hudson Valley, scored a recent win over Robinson in a heat race at Rochester June 15 in a race sponsored by the American Power Boat Association.

He also defeated Robinson on August 10 in a New York State Regional 2 race at Hudson.

The Miller A-hull craft operated by Wells is the only one of its kind in these parts.

Scores Upset Win

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Pacific Express scored an upset victory in the feature three-year-old Broadway trot at Yonkers Raceway last night. Prince Darnley was second with Judge Ingram third. Pacific Express took an early lead which she held from wire to wire to take the decision by two lengths in 2:06.3 and pay $14.40, $7.40 and $5.60.

West Shokan Grabs Olive League Title

Wildcats Turn Back High Point, 6 to 4

West Shokan clinched the Olive Memorial League championship with a recent 6 to 4 victory over the second place High Point Campers.

Blasting away to a three-run lead in the first inning, highlighted by Crawford's base-clearing single, the West Shokan Wildcats saw thier early lead evaporate but fast.

High Point made it 3-2 in the first and tied the count in the third. A single run gave High Point a short-lived edge in the third.

West Shokan bounced back with a two-out three-run rally in the top half of the fourth inning. Darkness halted the proceedings after High Point batted in the bottom half of the fourth.

Eckert and Warnes formed the battery for West Shokan while Tarlow and Newman worked for High Point.

Score by innings:

West Shokan	300	3—6	8 4
High Point	211	0—4	5 4

West Shokan Grabs Olive League Title

Wildcats Turn Back High Point, 6 to 4

West Shokan clinched the Olive Memorial League championship with a recent 6 to 4 victory over the second place High Point Campers.

Blasting away to a three-run lead in the first inning, highlighted by Crawford's base-clearing single, the West Shokan Wildcats saw thier early lead evaporate but fast.

High Point made it 3-2 in the first and tied the count in the third. A single run gave High Point a short-lived edge in the third.

West Shokan bounced back with a two-out three-run rally in the top half of the fourth inning. Darkness halted the proceedings after High Point batted in the bottom half of the fourth.

Eckert and Warnes formed the battery for West Shokan while Tarlow and Newman worked for High Point.

Score by innings:

West Shokan	300	3—6	8 4
High Point	211	0—4	5 4

August 31—All Stars vs. West Shokan at West Shokan.

Salem, N. H.—Anthony Despirito, the nation's leading jockey, scored his 200th victory of the season, riding six winners at Rockingham Park.

Brookline, Mass. — Defending champions Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor of Australia, advanced to the quarter finals of the National Doubles along with all the other top teams.

Toronto—Five Americans—Dick Savitt, Art Larsen, Hal Burrows, Ed Moyalan and Tony Vincent—made the quarter-final round of the Canadian championship.

Swirling Flame

the Oil Burner that gives you up to 25% more heat with the same amount of fuel because it utilizes...

Radiant Energy

The same Energy the Sun uses to give you that painful sunburn is used by "Swirling Flame" to give you "More Heat with Less Fuel . . . Faster . . . Cleaner . . . Quieter."

Here's how "Swirling Flame" saves you money

Only "Swirling Flame" can give you the full benefits from the Radiant Energy because it has the Most Brilliant Flame, the correct Shaped Flame and the Flame rides up in the Combustion Area (no combustion chamber or any refractory material is needed). That's why "Swirling Flame" delivers almost 100% of the Radiant Energy directly to all the Primary Heating Surfaces of your Furnace or Boiler.

RESULT: Up to 25% savings on Fuel Bills.

ARE YOU DRIVING SIDEWAYS?
SOUNDS SILLY, DOESN'T IT?

Yet, if the wheels of your car are out-of-line, the net result — WASTEFUL TIRE WEAR— is the same.

Misalined wheels drag, skid and suff along instead of rolling straight and true. This side-drag on your tires scuffs away good rubber.

Why wait? Come in Today for a Bear wheel alinement inspection.

Graham Gets Easy Win Over Basilio; Eyes Gavilan Title

Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—At the age of 30, and after 113 professional fights, Irish Billy Graham is willing to admit that it's hard work being a boxer.

"I always like to fight and can remember when I'd rather fight than eat," he said. "But now it's just plain hard work. The only thing that keeps me going is the chance at Gavilan's title."

After outpointing rugged Carmen Basilio, the upstate New York former onion-grower, in 10 rounds at Chicago Stadium last night, Graham wasn't even breathing hard.

"I'm going back to New York and rest for five days then go back to work," he said. "I'll start preparing for Gavilan by doing roadwork at Greenwood Lake (N. Y.) then move my training quarters to Miami about Sept. 10 or 12. I'll go to Cuba 10 days before the fight."

The powerfully-built Graham, who, in his Chicago debut, impressed ringsiders as the sharpest and cleverest boxer since Ray Robinson, will shoot for Kid Gavilan's welterweight crown in Havana Oct. 4.

Graham easily took a unanimous decision over the aggressive Basilio in last night's nationally televised bout. He weighed 148 to Basilio's 146½.

Littler, Cherry Score In Amateur Golf Play

Seattle, Aug. 21 (AP)—Sixteen survivors of play, headed by former champion Charlie Coe and such strong challengers as Walker Cup player Jimmy McHale, sailor Gene Littler, and crooner Don Cherry, head into another double round of match play today in the Men's National Amateur Golf championship.

Coe, the 1949 champion, and McHale are familiar names in the national classic.

Littler and Cherry earned their way into prominence by producing the two most resounding triumphs of the fifth round yesterday afternoon.

Littler, 22-year-old former junior star, with perhaps the most brilliant play thus far in the tournament, defeated the British amateur champion, Harvie Ward, Jr., of Tarboro, N. C., 4 and 2.

Cherry, 28, from Garden City, N. Y., well known in the east as a professional singer, made it another year of sorrow for Frank Stranahan, the perennial contender from Toledo.

Cherry, who has played without acclaim in three other nationals, defeated the handsome Ohio strongboy, 3 and one.

Wins National Stake

Donker Quits Too

The Hague, The Netherlands, Aug. 21 (AP)—L. A. Donker threw in the towel today after trying to form a new Dutch government for the past 16 days. He was the third to try since last June's elections. Donker, Labor member of Parliament, had been asked by Queen Juliana to take over the task from L. J. M. Beel, of the Catholic People's Party who also had given up after 16 days. The first to try was Caretaker Willem Drees. He kept at it for almost a month.

Wins National Stake

Donker Quits Too

The Hague, The Netherlands, Aug. 21 (AP)—L. A. Donker threw in the towel today after trying to form a new Dutch government for the past 16 days. He was the third to try since last June's elections. Donker, Labor member of Parliament, had been asked by Queen Juliana to take over the task from L. J. M. Beel, of the Catholic People's Party who also had given up after 16 days. The first to try was Caretaker Willem Drees. He kept at it for almost a month.

The Weather

THURSDAY, Aug. 21, 1952

Sun rises at 4:57 a. m.; sun sets at 6:37 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather, cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 63 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 75 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Partly cloudy, warm and more humid today, high near 80 along the coast, near 85 inland. Considerable cloudiness, warm and humid with occasional showers or thunderstorms tonight and Friday. Low tonight near 70, high Friday near 80.

Eastern New York—Cloudy with showers and scattered thunderstorms this afternoon and in south portion early Friday. Friday generally fair and cooler. Low tonight around 55 in north and 60 to 64 in south portions.

The city engineer's weather records today showed a temperature of 75 degrees, a barometric pressure of 30.08 inches, a humidity of 88 per cent, and a west wind with a velocity of five miles an hour. The high temperature yesterday was 83 at 3 p. m., and the low 55 at 5 a. m. The mean temperature was 69 and the normal is 73.83. The humidity was 95 at 7 a. m., and 45 at 2 p. m. The barometric pressure was 30.13 at 10 a. m., and 30.09 at 1 a. m. The velocity of an east wind was five miles an hour.

The dressing of hair was developed to unprecedented elaborateness at the beginning of the 15th century.

Wicks Committee Meets at Saratoga

Saratoga Springs, Aug. 21 (AP)—Two horse-racing moguls were expected to tell a legislative committee today that they oppose any plan to legalize off-track betting in New York state.

Slated to testify at an open hearing in this upstate racing resort were Alfred G. Vanderbilt, president of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the United States, and Carleton F. Burkee, racing director at the Santa Anita track in California.

John A. Morris, president of the Metropolitan Jockey Club, which operates the Jamaica track, and Spencer J. Drayton, head of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Association, were scheduled to testify tomorrow. Morris is also sercretary-treasurer of the Saratoga Racing Association.

After the hearing, committee members were slated to visit the flat and harness tracks in this Spa city, now at the height of its horse-racing season.

The joint legislative committee on racing, created by the 1951 Legislature, is headed by Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston.

The committee was continued another year by the 1952 Legislature, to permit a thorough study of the feasibility of permitting betting away from tracks.

Herbert Bayard Swope, former chairman of the State Racing Commission, has urged the committee to recommend an off-track betting system. He spoke at a committee session in New York city last June.

At the same hearing, Ashley T. Cole, present commission chairman, denounced any such plan.

Way for Talks Cleared

London, Aug. 21 (AP)—Britain has cleared the way for resuming full-scale military talks with Egypt designed to bring that touchy country into a western-sponsored Middle East defense alliance.

Drivers of 2 Trucks Killed In Collision at Catskill

The drivers of two trucks were killed in a collision at the intersection of Routes 9W and 23A in Catskill about 8:20 p. m., Wednesday, village police reported.

The dead were identified by authorities as Frank Augustine, 82, of Paleville, and Alfred Steenburgh, age estimated in the early 30's, of Catskill.

Dr. Mahlon Atkinson, Greene county coroner, said that Augustine died instantly of compound skull fractures and other injuries, and that Steenburgh, who received fractured legs, broken right arm and other injuries, died of shock.

Sgt. Paul Kelly of the Catskill police department investigated. He reported that the terrific impact of the collision tore the motor out of the pickup truck that Augustine was driving. The beer truck driven by Steenburgh rebounded down an embankment and into a tree on the Murray property, its front end pushing in and pinning the driver in the cab. Sgt. Kelly and others assisting worked for 20 to 25 minutes to pry Steenburgh from the cab, he said.

Cause of the accident has not been determined. There were no other occupants in the trucks, it was reported.

Art Conference

opening session will begin at 8 p. m. tomorrow with an address by the distinguished philosopher and aesthetician D. George Boas of Johns Hopkins University.

There will be two sessions on Saturday from 10 a. m. to noon and from 2:30 to 5 p. m. devoted to panel discussion which will eventually be thrown open to the floor.

Roster of Speakers

The roster of speakers includes, in addition to Dr. Boas:

Muriel Rukeyser, poet, whose published works include "Theory of Flight", "U. S. 1", "A Turning Wind". "The Soul and Body of John Brown". Her poems have been printed in several anthologies, including Louis Untermeyer's "Modern American Poetry".

R. Buckminster Fuller, master designer, mathematician and inventor of the futuristic "Dymaxion" cars and houses. He is the founder of the Fuller Research Foundation.

Dr. Susanne K. Langer, philosopher, author of the well-known work "Philosophy in a New Key". Dr. Langer is the daughter of Mrs. Antonio Knauth, formerly of Kingston, and she frequently spends her summers with her sister, Mrs. Henry Dunbar of Lomontville, and maintains a residence in Hurley.

Ben Shahn, painter, also well known for his war posters and his murals. He has had several major showings at the Museum of Modern Art.

David Smith, sculptor.

Robert Motherwell, painter and editor of the "Documents of Modern Art" series.

Barnett Newman, painter, regarded as one of the more "extreme" non-objectives.

Robert J. Wolff, painter and head of the art department of Brooklyn College.

Lester Longman, head of the art department of Iowa State University.

George L. K. Morris, painter, sculptor, former art editor of the magazine "Partisan Review."

James Fitzgibbon, architect and designer, associate professor of architecture at the School of Design of North Carolina State College, and a co-director of the North Carolina division of the Fuller Research Foundation.

Harry Holtzman, painter, associate professor of design at Brooklyn College and editor of the magazine "Transformation."

James K. Feibleman, professor of philosophy at Tulane University, New Orleans, one of the best known American philosophers and aestheticians.

Previous Woodstock art conferences have explored the interrelation of the various arts, the changing horizons of art, and the problems of the artist's relationship to the museum.

The present conference is sponsored jointly by the Woodstock Artists Association and the American Society for Aesthetics.

One of Quints Dies

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 21 (AP)—One of the girl quintuplets born to Mrs. Maria Albano, 38, at Sao Carlos Tuesday night died at a hospital here today. The other four were reported in good condition. The babies, weighing less than three pounds each at birth, were placed in an incubator in a maternity hospital here. The mother had previously given birth to seven children.

About the Folks

Schaefer rings the bell—
that is light and dry, too!

Today's Schaefer combines everything you have ever wanted in a beer. It is light, but full-flavored. It is dry, but not at the expense of character. It has satisfying body, yet is not heavy. And it develops a rich, full head—the crowning glory of a great beer. This Schaefer is the heritage of 110 years of skillful brewing. We believe it is the finest beer America has yet produced.

make it clear ...make it Schaefer BEER

When you drink this greatest of all Schaefer brews, we believe you'll enjoy it more than any beer you've ever tasted. From the very finest barley malt, grain and hops the Schaefer brewers have produced the perfectly balanced beer . . . Our hand has never lost its skill!

Previous Woodstock art conferences have explored the interrelation of the various arts, the changing horizons of art, and the problems of the artist's relationship to the museum.

The present conference is sponsored jointly by the Woodstock Artists Association and the American Society for Aesthetics.

One of Quints Dies

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 21 (AP)—One of the girl quintuplets born to Mrs. Maria Albano, 38, at Sao Carlos Tuesday night died at a hospital here today. The other four were reported in good condition. The babies, weighing less than three pounds each at birth, were placed in an incubator in a maternity hospital here. The mother had previously given birth to seven children.

About the Folks

Mrs. Rachel Squire, 40 Liberty street, has returned to her home from the Kingston Hospital, where she has been a patient for two weeks.

Schaefer rings the bell—
that is light and dry, too!
Today's Schaefer combines everything you have ever wanted in a beer. It is light, but full-flavored. It is dry, but not at the expense of character. It has satisfying body, yet is not heavy. And it develops a rich, full head—the crowning glory of a great beer. This Schaefer is the heritage of 110 years of skillful brewing. We believe it is the finest beer America has yet produced.
make it clear ...make it Schaefer BEER
When you drink this greatest of all Schaefer brews, we believe you'll enjoy it more than any beer you've ever tasted. From the very finest barley malt, grain and hops the Schaefer brewers have produced the perfectly balanced beer . . . Our hand has never lost its skill!
